Royal Wedding

Q. After seeing Queen Elizabeth II of England and her husband Prince Philip on television not long ago, I got to wondering when they were married. I seem to remember it was about 1950. How old was Elizabeth at the time? Was Philip a commoner? Mrs. R. H., Long Beach.

A. Elizabeth's wedding on Nov. 20, 1947, was a colorful episode in the dreary postwar years of "austerity" in Britain. The 21-year-old Elizabeth was wed in Westminster Abbey to Philip Mountbatten, her third cousin and a prince of the Greek ruling family. Mountbatten, five years older than his royal bride, assumed British citizenship a few months before the wedding, and was created Duke of Edinburgh, Earl of Merioneth and Baron Greenwich by King George VI.

Not Crafty Enough

Q. I have a 7-year-old son with whom I'd like to work on some project. But I don't have the tools or the knowhow. Is there some organization we could join where we could work on some craft or project together? D. F., Huntington Beach.

A. The West Orange County YMCA, 14776 Beach Blvd., Westminster, (714) 893-8511, has an Indian Guides program for fathers and sons. "The program is for boys between 5 and 8 and their fathers. They study Indian lore, work together on craft projects and go on camp-outs," explained James Yamanaka, executive director. You and your son might also be interested in joining the Boys Club of Huntington Beach, 319 Yorktown St., Huntington Beach (714) 536-9415. Patrick Downey, club director, said the club has a craft room where you and your son could do some woodworking projects. He promised to help you get started.

Shirt Tale

Q. Help! My shirts are wearing out and I can't find my size anywhere. Where can I buy a form-fitting, wash-and-wear, long-sleeved dress shirt with a 14-inch neck and 32-inch sleeve? J. H., Long Beach.

A. Although ACTION LINE could locate no stores that stock your size, Little Barney's, 422 Pine Ave., and Lenny's Fashions for Men, 5835 Atlantic Ave., can special order them for you. Store spokesmen said you must buy at least one box of four shirts, and it will take two weeks for delivery.

Classless Society?

Q. I would like to know what students get priority during enrollment at Long Beach City College. My son was able to get only half of the regular class load he tried to carry. He said the rest of the classes he wanted were closed. I've been told that football players and even relatives of college employees have preference. Is this right? M. C. D., Lakewood.

A. Over-all enrollment priority at the college is given to those students who have completed the most units. Therefore, entering freshmen start at the bottom. Dr. Albert Derian, dean of admissions, says general priority among freshmen is decided alphabetically, with the A's going first in the fall semester and the Z's in the spring. If college officials are satisfied that certain freshmen, such as football players or student government leaders, need to have specific classes at specific times in order to participate in their extra curricular activities, they are given first priority. Also, working students many times get special consideration to make sure their classes will not conflict with their working hours. Finally, freshmen with high scholarship marks in high school are assigned enrollment dates before their final semester grades are placed on the transcript. "However, there is no reason for a student to come up with only six or seven units," Dr. Derian says. "We've found that students often get frustrated when they can't get the class they want in the morning, so they refuse to take it in the afternoon. Then they say that the class was closed." Dr. Derian emphasizes that the college "very well knows" that full-time schedules are necessary for draft deferments or veteran benefits, and that the college will help the student if he makes an effort to complete his schedule himself.

Solicited Manuscript

Q. About a year and a half ago I submitted a story with photos to Washington Welcome Magazine in Seattle, Wash. Several weeks later I was notified that the magazine had temporarily ceased publication, but that my story would be held until publication was resumed. Finally, I wrote to them last June asking them to return my article. I received no reply. Can ACTION LINE tell me how to reach them? L. C., San Pedro.

A. After a lengthy search, ACTION LINE got an address for Gibbs Lincoln, executive director of the defunct magazine, who lives at 2615 80th St., NE, Bellevue, Wash. We spoke with Lincoln's wife, who said no plans are being made to resurrect the tourist magazine. "Many people are disappointed," Mrs. Lincoln said, "but our financial backers cut our budget so drastically we just couldn't afford to keep the magazine going." She said many, though not all, of their files have been kept and promised to try and find your article and return it to you.

Buns from Bohemia

Q. I have called almost every bakery in Long Beach trying to find a pastry called kolach or kolacky. No one seems to understand what they are. I would like to buy them as a surprise for my family. B. G., Long Beach.

A. Kolaches, sweet buns filled with jam or fruit, can be specially ordered from Mr. Pastry Inc., 11234 Crenshaw Blvd., Inglewood, 758-1305. They will cost you $1.50 a pound. Hanna Rosenbaum, store manager, requested that you give them at least three days notice. With the help of Mary Hafner of The I.P.T.'s merchandising department, ACTION LINE located a recipe for the Bohemian buns in Betty Crocker's "Picture Cook Book."

Peace Reports Denied

Says U.S. Has No Confirmation of Hanoi OK

WASHINGTON, Saturday (UPI) — The State Department said early today it had nothing to support news reports from Saigon that North Vietnam had accepted President Johnson's terms for a bombing halt.

Commenting on dispatches quoting South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu as saying Hanoi had approved the President's proposals, and that both the Saigon government and the Viet Cong would be admitted to the peace talks, Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs Dixon Donnelly said:

"We have heard the reports. We have nothing to confirm them."

A NORTH Vietnamese diplomatic source said Friday that the United States has made new proposals to North Vietnam to try to break the deadlocked Paris talks on Vietnam and they have been sent to Hanoi for consideration.

The source declined to elaborate on the new proposals but diplomatic observers said they were believed to be a package plan to break the five-month-old deadlock in the talks.

Western diplomatic sources said the plan was believed to encompass a halt in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, a reduction of North Vietnamese military activity in the South — particularly around the demilitarized zone — and expansion of the Paris talks to include Saigon government and the National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong's political branch.

The North Vietnamese diplomat made the disclosure several hours before reports Hanoi had already answered the U.S. proposal were denied by a North Vietnamese delegation spokesman.

OFFICIAL North Vietnamese and U.S. sources Friday denied persistent reports that Washington and Hanoi had exchanged new proposals to try to break the deadlocked talks.

Dispatches from London quoting diplomatic sources Friday said the Soviet Union was backing Vietnam peace moves and was in contact with Hanoi on the matter. The reports said Communist China opposed peace moves and urged Hanoi to fight on "to the victorious end."

3 Children Suffocate In Freezer

PASADENA (CNS) — A Pasadena mother opened the lid on an unused freezer at her home late Friday and found the bodies of her 7-year-old son and two neighbor children.

Mrs. Mattie Adams told police she noticed a tray out of the freezer lying on the service porch where the freezer was kept.

When she started to replace the lid she found her son, Kelvin, and two playmates — 5-year-old twins Dennis and Denise McClain.

Police said the Fire Department noted the unused freezer at the Adams home as a "safety hazard" during a routine check last week and left a recommendation that the lid be removed.

Reagan Loses Attempt to Ban Cleaver at UC

GOV. RONALD REAGAN, ARROW, IS TAUNTED BY STUDENTS AT UC, SANTA CRUZ
Supporters of Grape Boycott and Eldridge Cleaver Blocked Bus for a Half-Hour

Decision Postponed by Regents

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan failed Friday to impose an outright ban on Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver's University of California lectures and later faced a crowd of questioning, often jeering and occasionally shoving students.

UC regents voted 13-8 to prevent any consideration of Reagan's proposal, which would have prevented Cleaver from lecturing in any UC course, whether given for academic credit or not.

Cleaver, 33, an ex-convict and minister of information for the militant Black Panther Party, has given two of 10 scheduled lectures without academic credit. The regents earlier had limited Cleaver's lecturing on campus to one class period in an experimental course on racism.

REAGAN told newsmen the regents' refusal to act on his motion was "an abdication of their responsibility."

Regents earlier voted 14-7 to delay any further action on Cleaver at least until November. The resolution, by UC President Charles J. Hitch, called for more talks between regents and faculty leaders.

"It is a possibility we may have to conduct an investigation of the university by citizens," Reagan told newsmen.

The regents' meeting was orderly, but later, Reagan, backed against a wall, answered questions for 40 minutes from about 300 students. A few of them made obscene gestures at the governor, but many others shouted that he should be allowed to speak.

Students followed him with chants of "We want Cleaver," and some pounded on his car.

Reagan was well-protected by security men. There were no injuries or arrests as a result of the shoving.

Regent John E. Canaday of Burbank, who has said he supports an outright ban on Cleaver's lecturing on the Berkeley campus, opposed Reagan's motion, saying it would nullify the regents' earlier vote to delay action on Cleaver.

Reagan's motion contained eight points, many of which, the governor said, already were in the state constitution.

MIGHTY APOLLO 7 Spacemen Criticize Test

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 7 astronauts, criticizing "Mickey Mouse" procedures, triggered the mightiest maneuver ever made by a manned spacecraft Friday.

"Yabba-dabba-do," cheered Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. as the powerful Apollo 7 engine roared to life for 66 seconds, pushing the three pilots against their couches 120 miles over the Gulf of Mexico.

"The machine performed beautifully," Schirra said.

As Schirra, Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian Walter Cunningham completed two thirds of their 11-day mission, elated officials said 90 per cent of the flight's objectives would be met if it ended now.

The lengthy engine firing simulated a maneuver that will be needed to kick future Apollo astronauts into orbit around the moon and back to earth.

The astronauts shifted between light-hearted banter and criticism in conversations with ground controllers Friday. In one exchange, after officials called for rescheduling a spaceship water evaporator, Cunningham said testily:

"We'll go on record here as saying, people that dream up procedures like this after liftoff have somehow or other been dropping the ball for the last three years. I'll do this Mickey Mouse procedure if necessary."

Cunningham performed the test.

One of the astronauts also complained of "Mickey-Mouse wiring" in a sensor used to monitor astronaut heart beats. The wiring, which has interrupted spacecraft-to-earth heartbeat signals for several days, "is not up to the standards as far as durability is concerned for seven or eight days," he said.

Earlier, Schirra complained about a change in procedures for triggering the main spaceship engine's burn. But flight director Glynn Lunney told newsmen there was no change from the procedures, as charged by Schirra, and the command pilot "either forgot it or something—that's the way the flight plan called for it."

Making like men going to the moon, Schirra, Cunningham and Eisele spent several hours Friday rolling and coasting their spaceship through the heavens to test a power-saving method of using the sun's heat to keep spacecraft components warm.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said a power outage connecting the global tracking network to Mission Control was traced to a major electrical failure at Pennsboro, W. Va.

Within minutes, officials switched to alternate circuits and partially restored data transmission to Mission Control from the network's heart at Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md. in 15 minutes, the entire network was back on the line.

As Apollo 7 sped past the one-week mark in its 11-day marathon mission, and with most of the flight goals already achieved, the three pilots began looking forward to coming back to earth Tuesday.

"We're getting worried about all the paper work accumulating on our desks," Schirra said.

Fun-loving Schirra, told that his wife, Jo, was in Mission Control, said, "Very good. Tell her I'll drop in sometime next week."

Told in a ground-to-spacecraft news broadcast that Jacqueline Kennedy plans to marry Greekian magnate Aristotle Onassis, Schirra responded: "That's Greek to me."

Jackie, Onassis on His Yacht — Weekend Wedding Due

ANDRAVIDA, Greece (UPI) — Jacqueline Kennedy, her smile as warm as the Greek sunshine, arrived Friday to marry shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis in a weekend service on his paradise island of Skorpios. Onassis kissed her gently on the cheek, then whisked her off by helicopter to his yacht.

"She has found the peace she sought," said an Onassis spokesman to a world stunned by the imminent union of one of its most famous women and one of its wealthiest, most powerful men.

circles close to Onassis as "announcing" the wedding would almost certainly take place Sunday.

IN NEW YORK, Mrs. Kennedy's secretary, Nancy Tuckerman, said the

Regent John E. Canaday of Burbank, who has said he supports an outright ban on Cleaver's lecturing on the Berkeley campus, opposed Reagan's motion, saying it would nullify the regents' earlier vote to delay action on Cleaver.

Reagan's motion contained eight points, many of which, the governor said, already were in the state constitution.

SUNNY, FAIR WEATHER FOR WEEKEND

Late night and early-morning fog will be the only damper to otherwise sunny and fair weather in the Long Beach area this weekend, the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted Friday.

Some cloudiness may also cut across Southland skies.

Temperatures will be in the 70s at beach areas, in the 80s at coastal and intermediate valleys, near 80 in upper deserts and near 90 in lower deserts during weekend days.

SAIGON, Saturday — Communists blasted the heart of Vung Tau, sometimes considered South Vietnam's most secure city, with 10 big rockets early today, killing five Americans and wounding 19 others. It was the first rocketing of the coastal resort southwest of Saigon and broke a week-long lull in fighting that had brought speculation of an imminent U.S. bombing halt in North Vietnam. The 122 mm rockets fired into Vung Tau's downtown, killing five civilians and wounding 19 persons, including eight American soldiers. During the rocketing of Saigon last June, many wealthy Vietnamese families moved to Vung Tau, a beach resort popular with U.S. servicemen. President Nguyen Van Thieu was to meet in Vung Tau later today with military officials but there was no apparent connection with the planned arrival of Thieu and the attack. Earlier, U.S. gunboats invaded a Viet Cong stronghold in Vietnam's southern tip and destroyed or damaged 165 Communist boats and buildings.

Czechs Ratify Russ Treaty

PRAGUE — Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union Friday ratified a Soviet-imposed treaty providing for "temporary" occupation by elements of the Soviet bloc armies who invaded the nation Aug. 20-21. Radio Czechoslovakia said four of the 242 deputies present in the assembly voted against the treaty and 10 abstained. Reports had circulated that a majority of the assembly might boycott the emergency ratification session.

Russ Threat Discussed

BELGRADE — President Tito conferred for 90 minutes Friday with U.S. Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach on the Soviet threat to Yugoslavia. Tito asked no American commitment to defend Yugoslavia and none was given. Katzenbach expressed what was described as an intense desire by the U.S. government to help bolster this Communist nation economically, and both sides described the talk as friendly and informative.

Israel, Jordan Talking

CAIRO — Highly placed sources sympathetic to the regime of President Gamal Abdel Nasser said Friday that direct talks between Israeli officials and emissaries of the Jordanian government had already begun. The informants said the Jordanian government had informed some third countries that the talks, held on Israeli-controlled territory, had achieved no real progress so far toward a settlement of the Arab-Israeli dispute.

Another German Army Suicide

BONN — A West German army lieutenant colonel Friday became the third top-ranking Bundeswehr officer to die of gunshot wounds in the last 10 days.

Lt. Col. Johannes Grimm, 57, shot himself in the head with his service revolver in his office in the ministry. There was no suspicion that Grimm's death was linked to malfeasance of "a violation of security regulations." The Defense Ministry said Grimm's health had been "unstable for years."

Oswald's Mom Out to Clear Name

Combined News Services

The mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, used the occasion of her slain son's birthday Friday in Ft. Worth to ask if any of the three main presidential candidates would be willing to reopen the case against her son.

"It should be an issue in the campaign," said Mrs. Marguerite Oswald in her Fort Worth home. Lee Harvey Oswald would have been 29 years old Friday.

She said she was convinced "after five years of investigative work by myself and others that had my son lived he would have been able to clear himself." She said she was interested to know if any of the presidential candidates would be willing to reopen the case if they were elected. "This should be an issue in the campaign," she said. "It has never been settled."

Asked if she had uncovered any recent information that she felt would clear her son, she would only reply, "Yes. Clearing my son's name is my life's work." She would not elaborate.

Songstress Mama Cass Elliot Friday was improving after being hospitalized for acute tonsillitis. The hefty singer was admitted to Beverly Glen Hospital in Los Angeles Monday suffering from "lingual tonsillitis."

NUDE APPEAL

John C. Bryan, editor of "Open City," an underground newspaper, Friday was ordered to pay a $1,000 fine or spend 180 days in jail on his conviction for preparing and distributing obscene matter.

Bryan's attorney, Michael Hannon, filed an immediate notice of appeal and Bryan was freed on $1,500 bail pending a ruling. A jury of nine men and three women convicted Bryan Thursday for publishing a picture of a nude woman as part of an advertisement in his newspaper.

LAUDED

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz lauded Cesar Chavez for his work in collective bargaining Friday in Oakland following a 45-minute meeting with the farm union leader at Delano.

LEE TRACY

DIES AT 70

Actor Lee Tracy, whose machine-gun delivery typified the breezy spirit of the talkies when sound came to the movies, died Friday in Santa Monica. He was 70.

Tracy succumbed to cancer of the liver in St. John's hospital. He underwent surgery several months ago. He is survived by his wife of 30 years, the former Helen Thomas Wyze.

Tracy, who in recent years had been active mostly in TV, was part of a mass migration of Broadway actors to Hollywood in the early 1930s to replace silent screen stars who couldn't make it in talkies.

He soared to movie fame in the early 1930s with rapid-fire dialogue as a Broadway columnist in "Blessed Event." In later years he returned occasionally to the stage. In 1963 he re-created his stage role as a crusty ex-president for the movie version of "The Best Man." The role won him an Academy Award nomination in 1964.

Who's going to call who boss when two Air Force captains marry? In the case of Capts. Paula A. Case and Denis-Paul J. Watson, there will be no problem.

Capt. Case, 31, a five-year veteran of the Air Force, said she will give up her rank for her new Mrs. title. She's going to let her future husband be the "career man" in the family. Capt. Watson, 32, has 16 years in the service. The couple applied for a marriage license at the Los Angeles County Courthouse Friday.

NO HURRY

A year ago this month August Distefano, a laborer in El Monte, walked into police headquarters, plunked some cash and announced: "I found this money in the gutter."

Police traced the $1,000 to a bank and from there to Jan Manuel de la Torre, a grocer in Tijuana. De la Torre, who said he had given the money to a cousin to make some purchases in Los Angeles and then learned the cousin had lost it, picked up his cash Friday. He gave Distefano $150 for his honesty.

BEATLE ARRESTED

Beatle John Lennon, who once described marijuana as "a harmless giggle," was arrested with his Japanese girl friend Yoko Ono Friday on a drug charge.

It was the first arrest to mar the image of the Beatles, the most successful entertainers in the history of British show business.

Lennon, 28, and Miss Ono, 34-year-old wife of American film producer Anthony Cox, were taken from Lennon's London apartment and charged with possessing cannabis (marijuana). They were released on bail and ordered to appear in court today on the drug charge and an accusation of obstructing a police search of Lennon's apartment.

S. B. Nelson Named SCRTD Manager

Samuel B. Nelson, former head of the nation's biggest municipal-owned public utility Friday was named general manager of the Southern California Rapid Transit District (RTD).

RTD directors announced selection of Nelson for the $45,000-a-year post after a closed-door personnel session. He will assume full-time duties on Nov. 11.

The transit district has been without a permanent head since Dale W. Barratt resigned in July.

Nelson, 47, retired in April 1967 as general manager of the Los Angeles City Water and Power Department. After that, he served as a state director of public works under Gov. Ronald Reagan.

RTD directors — concerned over the fate of their $2.5-billion bond program in November — had been searching for a top executive since Barratt's departure.

Voters must give 60 per cent approval to the transit bonds in order for the district to get revenue from a half-cent sales tax increase to build the system.

During his six-year tenure as general manager of DWP, Nelson spearheaded more than $500 million in construction projects and put hundreds of millions of dollars more on the drawing boards.

200 Strike at Six Port Boatworks

Nearly 200 members of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, Local No. 9, walked off their jobs at six harbor boatworks Friday afternoon.

A contingent of about 30 of the unionists converged on Port Welding, 201 W. D St., Wilmington, where, according to Charlie Franklin, president of the local, supervisory personnel from the company went to work to finish a repair job on a lifeboat for Pacific Far East Lines.

FRANKLIN placed all 30 men in a picket line around the Port Welding plant and said that additional pickets would be placed at Pier 50 in Long Beach where the lifeboat was scheduled for delivery aboard the Washington Bear.

Los Angeles Harbor Division police arrived at the scene Friday night and advised both the strikers and the welding shop personnel that no violence would be tolerated. The officers took up a vigil on the street.

Union officials said that the walkout came Friday after management had "withdrawn all of its offers to us on Thursday." Joe Murat, owner of the Port Welding firm, refused to discuss the strike with reporters. He also declined to name management negotiators.

Federal mediators attempted to resolve the impasse between the two sides before the company action Thursday and the walkout Friday, union aides said. Local 9's contract expired on July 28.

Wilmington Welding, Dockside Machine Co., Cavanaugh Machine Co., Golden Marine and General Welding — in addition to Port Welding — are the struck firms.

Santa Monica Airport Sued For Jet Noise

The selection of a jury began Friday in the trial of a civil suit involving jet noise and fumes from aircraft using the Santa Monica Airport.

Although a total of 232 homes are involved in the legal action, only representatives of 10 "cross section" home owners are taking part in the trial before Superior Court Judge Ben Knenig.

The suit charged that following start of jet traffic at the airport in 1966 property has been damaged and health endangered.

The 37 residents of the 10 representatives' homes are seeking $5,000 each for personal injuries. The damage claims vary between $1,000 and $5,000 for property loss.

This is the first suit of its kind to go to trial in Los Angeles.

Dozens of other suits against Los Angeles International Airport as well as smaller fields are pending with damages of as much as $1 billion asked.

Girl-Killer Suspect Is Arrested

A 36-year-old man was arrested Friday and booked on suspicion of the murder of a pretty aspiring science fiction writer who lived in a Los Angeles Salvation Army Residence for Girls.

John L. Jeffries was taken into custody at a women's clothing shop in Los Angeles.

The girl, Laura Jean Krome, was found dead last Saturday in a pedestrian tunnel beneath the Harbor Freeway, near the Evangeline Hotel, where she had been living since coming here from her home in Cleveland, Ohio, in July.

She had been stabbed in the chest and neck and criminally assaulted.

She was employed at a computer tabulating company but had come to Los Angeles to find work as a science-fiction writer, police said.

HEAD-ON CRASH INJURES TWO MEN

Long Beach motorists Malcolm H. Boyce, 24, of 2656 55th Way, and Frank G. Reynolds, 30, of 5409 Paramount Blvd., suffered arm and leg fractures Friday when their autos collided on Market Street, near Cherry Avenue, according to police. Both are in satisfactory condition in Memorial Hospital.

Believed Smith 'Took' Him but Kept Quiet, Watson Says

Former Harbor Commissioner George D. Watson said Friday he felt he had been "taken" in a stock deal with developer Keith Smith, but failed to tell anyone in the Harbor Department about it.

Watson, testifying in his Superior Court trial on bribery and conflict of interest, conceded he kept silent about the deal even though Smith was a harbor leaser and still had a $12-million project before the commission.

The 49-year-old Watson, accused of helping a friend obtain a lease for the floating restaurant SS Princess Louise while commissioner, made the stock-deal admission during an hour of cross-examination by Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Montagna.

Montagna told Judge William R. Kenne he has two more hours of questioning for Watson Monday.

Montagna asked Watson if he had felt Smith was a "dishonest man" in September 1967 when Watson voted as a commissioner to approve plans for Smith's $12-million world trade center on Terminal Island.

"Oh, no, wait a minute, Mr. Montagna," Watson said.

"Didn't you feel you were taken?" Montagna asked.

"I was taken," Watson replied.

The prosecutor asked Watson if he'd told anyone in the Harbor Department about being "taken," and Watson answered, "No."

"You just don't go around telling people about your mistakes," Watson said.

324% Boost in LSD and Pep-Pill Arrests

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Dangerous-drug arrests among young persons increased 324 per cent in California in the first half of 1968.

This was revealed Friday in a mid-year report issued by State Atty. Gen.

Thomas C. Lynch. He labeled dangerous drugs as LSD and amphetamines (pep pills).

"I am deeply concerned over the appalling increase in dangerous-drug arrests," said Lynch.

While dangerous-drug arrests took a startling upturn, Lynch noted marijuana offenses constituted 68 per cent of the total juvenile drug arrests in the first six months of 1968 compared with 79 per cent during a corresponding period last year. Over all, marijuana arrests rose 127 per cent from Jan. 1 to July 1.

During the past eight years, Lynch said, juvenile drug arrests have increased 2,000 per cent.

The report also showed adult arrests for use of dangerous drugs rose 86 per cent and marijuana arrests were up 37 per cent during the first six months of the year.

Juvenile drug arrests more than doubled this year in the state's largest counties. In Los Angeles the increase was from 2,750 to 6,139. Orange County from 452 to 1,176 and San Diego from 378 to 1,045.

Similar arrests totaled 672 in Alameda County, 325 in San Francisco County and 320 in Contra Costa County in the first half of the year.

Senator Assails Costs of Funerals

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — A state senator said Friday high funeral costs constitute "a luxury tax on death imposed by a few who seek profit from human grief."

The statement came from Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, sponsor of the state's 1967 abortion reform law and unsuccessful author of funeral-reform legislation this year.

Beilenson said "archaic laws written for the benefit of the funeral industry" are to blame for "the high cost of dying."

He said he would introduce his funeral-reform bill again next year and predicted it ultimately would pass.

Beilenson's comments came in a talk at a meeting of the California Federation of Funeral Societies.

Beilenson urged members of the federation to make funeral reform a campaign issue in this year's legislative races.

"You can be sure that the lobbyists who repeatedly have killed this legislation are not sitting out the election," Beilenson said.

As an example, Beilenson said, current state law requiring that cremated remains be kept in a cemetery is "useless and needlessly expensive."

Other proposals in his funeral practices reform legislation:

—Require funeral directors to provide comparative price lists.

—Require directors to notify customers that present law does not require embalming.

—Require funeral directors to follow the funeral wishes of the deceased — as expressed before his death.

—Permit the distribution of ashes of a cremated person as the surviving relatives desire, so long as it meets health regulations.

Hope Fades for Pilot Lost In Pacific

Associated Press

Hope faded Friday for the survival of a Japanese pilot forced down in the Pacific 800 miles west of San Francisco by engine failure.

Five circling planes and two ships were unable to find a trace of either the single-engine Beechcraft Debonair or Capt. Koshe Shimoyama, 37, who was ferrying it to Tokyo, via Hawaii.

The Coast Guard said an earlier report that a passing plane had sighted the pilot in the water proved erroneous.

Polls Probe Sets Monday Hearing

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee will hold a hearing Monday in Los Angeles on the "uses and abuses of public opinion political polls."

Chairman Jack R. Fenton, D-Montebello, said the public and many members of the legislature "have recently become very concerned with the reliability of polls and their effect on the outcome of elections. One of the purposes of our hearing is to examine some of the sources of this apprehension."

The hearing is scheduled for the State Building at 10 a.m.

AWOL Soldier Admits Kidnap of Policeman

SALINAS (UPI) — Darrell D. Chavarria, 18, of Klamath Falls, Ore., pleaded guilty Friday to a charge of kidnaping a policeman. Superior Court Judge Anthony Brazil set Nov. 8 for sentencing.

Chavarria, an AWOL soldier from Ft. Bragg, N.C., was taken into custody Aug. 30 by John McCarter, a policeman. At the Greenfield police station he wrestled a gun away from an officer, disarmed two military policemen and forced McCarter to drive him off.

The car was abandoned and a pickup commandeered, but the truck crashed in a ravine and McCarter escaped. Chavarria turned himself into authorities two days later. He shot himself in the stomach in an unsuccessful suicide attempt while being led to a booking station in Fresno.

'SEEN ONE, SEEN ALL' Agnew Won't Tour Ghettos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elaborating on a previous statement that he does not plan to take his campaign into any ghetto areas, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew said Friday: "If you've seen one city slum, you've seen them all."

The Republican vice presidential candidate said he "didn't say I wouldn't go into the ghetto areas. I've been into many of them and to some extent I would have to say that if you've seen one city slum, you've seen them all."

Agnew made the remarks during a television panel show which was taped before leaving Detroit.

A spokesman for the governor said Agnew had frequently visited ghetto areas in Baltimore, Md., during his campaign for governor in 1966.

"I don't think it's imperative that I showboat this campaign through appearances in ghetto areas to prove that I know something about the problems of the cities," he said.

Agnew reiterated his opinion that persons living in poverty areas should be consulted about the problems of their environment, but that solving those problems should be left to the experts.

Muskie Halts Talk to Hear Heckler

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — Democratic vice presidential candidate Edmund Muskie Friday turned over the podium to an antiwar heckler during an address before about 2,000 students at the University of Dayton.

Muskie stopped his speech when Peter Crotty, 19, of Long Island N.Y., who said he was a Sophomore at the University began chanting "Stop the War, Stop the War." Muskie pointed to him and said he would give Crotty five minutes to tell his side of the story.

Crotty, dressed in an Army field jacket and blue jeans, mounted the platform and condemned the Johnson-Humphrey administration for "killing 30,000 people" in Vietnam. "American troops in Vietnam are protecting a group of aristocrats while people starve and die on the streets of Saigon," he said. After he finished, Muskie encouraged young people to get "yourselves involved such as this young man has done and don't get so involved on the one issue that you overlook our country's other problems."

Muskie expressed deep concern over the spread of nuclear weapons and said the first order of business when Congress reconvenes in January is the passage of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

EARLIER Muskie addressed about 4,000 persons at Stevens Point State University in northern Wisconsin's "little Poland" on the first stop of his campaign day.

The Maine Senator, of Polish descent, was warmly received by the youthful gathering at the university and by some 500 persons who gave him an ethnic-tinged welcome, with the inevitable polka band, at the city's airport.

"The first order of business for whomever is elected Nov. 5 must be a treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons," Muskie told the university audience.

Wallace Cuts Tour to Tape TV Messages

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Presidential candidate George Wallace relaxed from the strain of cross-country campaigning Friday and concentrated for the moment on television to get his message across.

But after a weekend of taping television spot announcements and then facing newsmen on NBC's "Meet the Press" show Sunday, he starts out again Monday on another barnstorming tour through 11 states in six days.

The highlight will be a rally in Madison Square Garden in New York Thursday night.

The third-party candidate, canceling scheduled appearances Friday in Kansas and Missouri, flew home aboard his chartered propjet plane late Thursday night, and slept until midmorning.

He showed the effects of a lingering cold and was visibly tired after an 11-day journey through 17 states. But he told newsmen it was the need to get the television commercials taped rather than physical exhaustion that prompted him to cut short this week's speaking tour.

Wallace plans to confer with his vice presidential candidate, retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, before facing the cameras on "Meet the Press" in Washington.

LeMay is touring the war zones in Vietnam at the former Alabama governor's request but is scheduled to return to the United States today.

MILLIONS OF VOTES APART

Polls Differ — Nixon Tops

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's two leading political polls were millions of votes apart again Friday on the lead they gave Richard M. Nixon over Hubert H. Humphrey.

The latest Harris poll, taken Oct. 8-10 and published Friday, has Nixon leading Humphrey by five points, 40 to 35 per cent.

The latest Gallup poll, taken at the end of September, shows Nixon leading Humphrey by 15 points 44 to 29 per cent.

Based on the 70.6-million persons who voted in the 1964 presidential election, a 10 per cent difference would amount to about seven million votes.

Looked at another way, the figures suggest that Nixon, going from 44 in the Gallup survey to 40 in the Harris poll, lost 2.8-million votes from late September to Oct. 8-10. According to Harris, Nixon's lead may not be as wide as many persons think. "With Richard Nixon now ahead by five points," he said in his published report, "this means that this election could well move into the range of standard error."

The normal amount of statistical error built into such surveys is from 2 to 4 per cent. Applied to the latest Harris figures, that could make them read much closer.

"If Hubert H. Humphrey were to continue to gain another two or three points," Harris said, "the election could become 'too close to call.'"

The Gallup poll showed third-party candidate George C. Wallace with 20 per cent. The Harris poll showed Wallace with 18 per cent.

Nixon Sees Viet Talks 'Movement'

BOSTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said Friday night "there seems to be some movement" in the Vietnam peace talks, and the outcome could be another halt in U.S. bombing of the Communist North.

"... There seems to be some movement, we can't be sure on this, but there seems to be some movement," the Republican presidential nominee said in a New England campaign telecast.

NIXON made the comment in restating his refusal to discuss how he would handle the war if he became president.

Nixon said he has been briefed on the Paris negotiations, and is not going to disclose the results of those briefings.

He did say this. "Right now, at the present time, some very delicate negotiations are going on. These negotiations involve the United States endorsing and possibly approving another bombing pause ... provided it is one that would not endanger American lives and provided it is one that increases the chance to bring the war to an honorable conclusion."

"There's only one man, the President of the United States, who can be captain of this team," Nixon said. "He's the only negotiator."

In that situation, Nixon said, if a presidential candidate said exactly how he would handle the war if elected, the negotiations would be jeopardized.

NIXON said he does not believe the time of the "movement" he mentioned has any political overtones. His telecast was a question-answer session and he was asked whether he considered it unusual that there is talk of a new peace move with the election little more than two weeks away.

"No, I don't," Nixon said, although he added the question is a natural one. It was Nixon's second appearance of the campaign day. The first was before an audience of political friends, some 1,200 GOP campaign workers. It supplanted a public rally and party sources said a threat of massive heckling had led to the shift.

Tells Max: Take Stand on LeMay

SAN JOSE (AP) — Alan Cranston, Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate, Friday night challenged Republican opponent Max Rafferty to "embrace or divorce yourself completely from the war escalation policies of your former military adviser, Gen. Curtis LeMay."

Cranston, in remarks at a $100-a-plate dinner, claimed LeMay was "fired" from the Rafferty campaign advisory committee by a telegram signed with the candidate's name but without his knowledge.

HHH Asks Help From Union Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey appealed to 14,000 union men Friday to help him raise money to match Republican Richard M. Nixon.

After a day in campaigning in Connecticut, Humphrey flew to a Madison Square Garden rally where he charged that Nixon never gave "the trade union man, how in the deep name of decency can you ever support him?" demanded the Democratic presidential candidate.

"If you are a good union man, how in the deep name of decency can you ever support him?" demanded the Democratic presidential candidate.

WITH his voice hoarse, Humphrey declared earlier that he had to make as many as 100 speeches a day because he didn't have the money to match Nixon's television time and that Nixon would not debate him.

Raising his arms, Humphrey implored the trade unionists to "help me raise a little of the money to match Mr. Nixon's TV time."

Humphrey also slammed at third-party candidate George C. Wallace whose candidacy has been winning some support among union men. He charged that Wallace's candidacy was as phony as "a $3 Confederate bill."

And Humphrey added that for a union man to wear a Wallace button is "like being a scab."

THE FORMER Alabama governor, said Humphrey, had never supported labor causes and had used state troopers to break up unions.

In Hartford, Conn., earlier in the day, Humphrey expressed hope the North Koreans would free the crew of the U.S. Navy ship Pueblo to mark the change of administrations in January.

He also said an armistice in Vietnam would help his campaign.

The vice president campaigned in the bright fall sunshine and bright autumn colors of Connecticut—a state some Democratic politicians fear may fall to the Republicans in November.

The Democratic presidential candidate was hoarse from talking, but obviously happy about a national Harris poll result that showed he had picked up three points on Republican Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon TV Debate Refusal Seen as Boon

By ERNIE HERNANDEZ
From Our National Bureau

DETROIT — Richard M. Nixon might not realize it, but he's probably doing himself, Hubert H. Humphrey and the nation a great favor by refusing to debate HHH.

This comes from an observer who has some respect and admiration for George C. Wallace, but who, nevertheless, believes that this nation isn't ready for the fiery, banlam-weight Alabamian.

Humphrey, the Democratic nominee for President and heir-apparent to President Lyndon B. Johnson, has been goading Nixon to a debate for the last three weeks.

HE HAS used Nixon's refusal as a platform from which to base his attacks on the Republican. And, almost out of character, he has vilified Nixon with statements challenging Nixon's mentality, ability, integrity and character.

He has called Nixon a man "who has a vacuum where his principles should be." He has dubbed him "unfit to be President" and "chicken-hearted."

And Nixon, known for his political karate, has maintained his patience and his cool. He has ignored the attacks, vitriolic as they are.

Thus he, too, has been acting out of character. It is known that he'd love to get into a brawl with Humphrey. And it would be a good match.

Yet, there won't be a debate — despite Humphrey's 10-times-a-day challenge and Humphrey's offer of Humphrey-paid television time on CBS Sunday night.

THE REMOTE chance for that debate was killed Thursday night. Wallace had cabled Humphrey he'd be willing to participate. But Nixon ignored the offer as if it were Mickey Rooney challenging Muhammad Ali to a street-fight.

Nixon had good reason. He's far ahead, he says, in the race. The polls, public and private, back him. So, why take the chance?

He's not saying, of course, that he could be licked by Humphrey, who is quick with his mind and quick with his mouth. This isn't saying Nixon is slow, however, what both — Nixon and Humphrey — seem to fail to realize is that in a television debate, where IMPACT, NOT INFORMATION, count more, Wallace could emerge as the winner.

Because he is a master of the quick, sharp, simple retort. One that's easy to understand.

Nixon and Humphrey can think as quickly. Both express themselves in an erudite manner. They can provide sensible and provocative and significant answers to questions presented them, but it'll take them longer.

AND WHEN IMPACT is the goal, deliberation isn't enough.

Humphrey, for instance, could ask Wallace why his state has the highest murder rate. Wallace would have a quick answer, which would emphasize the racial conflict of the land. He'd say, almost with tears in his eyes, that he's sorry but it just happens that Negroes keep on hurting each other.

Humphrey could ask Nixon why he hasn't stated his plan for Vietnam. The answer would come — that Nixon believes in only one President at a time, that anything he might say would jeopardize negotiations in Paris, that, therefore, he won't say anything. period. There would be no snap to his answer.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and his vice presidential running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, will make their first joint nationwide campaign television appearance Sunday night. The Democratic National Committee said Friday the two will appear at 10 p.m. on the Columbia Broadcasting Co.

And suppose, Nixon asks Humphrey a simple question like: Should we stop bombing North Vietnam first, or should North Vietnam act first?

The answer would come, too. Humphrey would say that there are too many "theologians" who would write stories of what he says, that people should refer to his Salt Lake City speech of two weeks ago, that he doesn't want to add confusion to the matter. No snap either.

YET, the television doesn't want long answers with wherefore and whatnots. He wants the sharp, simple retort. Never mind all the facts, so long as there's an answer that can be digested immediately.

HUMP-DUMP RUMP-BUMP, BY CRACKY

DETROIT (UPI) — It was "sock it to me time" for three hecklers at Kennedy Square during a rally for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The three hecklers were standing on a domed skylight above an underground garage, police said.

"Dump the Hump," they shouted.

The glass gave way, and the three fell several feet into the garage. They suffered cuts and bruises.

The three-way debate, as Humphrey the challenger viewed it, was to be one in which he would ask his opponent direct questions and he would demand direct answers. And they would do the same.

He had not conceived of it as a panel, where the same question would be directed at all three. He wanted one geared for argument.

The debate is a dead issue now. There won't be one.

But if there were, Nixon's people would see nothing wrong in anything Nixon would say; and Humphrey's admirers would admire him, however long it takes him to say anything; and Wallace fans would call their man the victor.

HUMPHREY has stressed that the purpose of the debate would be to expose all candidates to the questions. It would probably do that.

But it would also be a contest. Just like "What's My Line" or any other like it on television. The contestants simply would be trying to score points.

And Wallace would win points. He wouldn't be cornered into saying, as Humphrey would want him to, that he would bomb North Vietnam back to the stone age.

He is that smooth. This observer can vouch. He can say what he wants his listener to hear without using any unkind or uncouth words.

And, he could by his smoothness cause many an undecided to conclude that "Let George do it. He can."

That wouldn't be so good. This reporter after traveling with all three candidates on the campaign trail, is convinced he thrives on dissension, something the nation can do without.

Calls Rafferty's Blast at Cranston Invalid

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California's Democratic National Committee denied Friday Republican Max Rafferty's accusations that Alan Cranston used unfair campaign practices in his U.S. Senate campaign against Rafferty.

Stephen Reinhardt told a news conference that

He said Rafferty advocates for the Vietnam war "a policy that could lead to one of the greatest bloodlettings in history" and "winning the war, no matter what the cost." Cranston has fairly represented those views, Reinhardt said.

KNXT Endorses Cranston Candidacy HOLLYWOOD (CNS) — Television station KNXT Friday editorially endorsed the candidacy of Democratic Senate nominee Alan Cranston.

The TV station cited Cranston's position on the Vietnam war, his position on "law and order with justice" and the station's confidence in the nominee's attempts at "a realistic solution of critical problems."

RAFFERTY has asked the Fair Campaign Practices Committee in Washington, D.C., to investigate Cranston's campaign. The complaint says Cranston misrepresented Rafferty's position on the war.

Reinhardt said that the committee, a private, non-partisan agency, is already investigating Rafferty's campaign, at the request of Oct. 3 of Roger Boas, Democratic State Central Committee chairman.

Jacqueline Risks Church Censure

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Vatican legal experts said Friday the Roman Catholic Church will regard Mrs. John F. Kennedy as "a public sinner" if she marries Aristotle Onassis before his first marriage in the Greek Orthodox Church is annulled.

"If Mrs. Kennedy marries a divorcee, her marriage will be considered null and void by the Catholic Church," a Vatican expert on such matters said.

"In doing so, she would commit an illicit action and would put herself outside the church to which she belongs. She could no longer receive the sacraments and would automatically enter the category of persons the Catholic Church considers public sinners."

ANOTHER Vatican expert said the Catholic Church will consider Mrs. Kennedy free to marry Onassis only if he gets a Greek Orthodox annulment of his 1946 marriage to Athina (Tina) Livanos.

The marriage was a Greek Orthodox Church rite, which the Catholic Church considers valid.

Tina in 1960 won a quickie divorce in Alabama, which the Catholic Church does not recognize. As a result, it considers him still married to his first wife, and will continue to do so unless and until the Orthodox Church annuls the bond, the expert said.

HE SAID Onassis' previous marriage, not his religion, was the main obstacle to his match with Mrs. Kennedy. Local bishops can grant dispensation for Catholics to marry non-Catholics. Christians, but not even Pope Paul VI can dispense from the impediment represented by a still-existing earlier marriage.

The Vatican City newspaper l'Osservatore Romano failed to report the marriage announcement at all — a striking exception in Rome, where all newspapers gave the story big front-page headlines.

In contrast with the Vatican's official silence, Archbishop Benedictus Prinesis, primate of the small Roman Catholic minority in Greece, spoke out strongly against the proposed marriage.

"I CANNOT believe a good Catholic like Mrs. Kennedy can marry a divorced man," the archbishop said. He said the Catholic Church considers marriage a sacrament "and a sacrament cannot be dissolved by divorce."

Vatican experts said that if Onassis gets an Orthodox annulment of his first marriage after marrying Mrs. Kennedy, this wouldn't straighten out matters retroactively. They said only an Onassis-Kennedy remarriage after the annulment would be valid under Catholic Church law.

JACKIE, ONASSIS

wedding would take place today or Sunday and that after the honeymoon the couple would make their home in Mrs. Kennedy's New York apartment on Fifth Avenue, overlooking Central Park.

The widow of President John F. Kennedy flew in from New York on an Onassis-owned jetliner with a party of eight that included her two children, John, 8, and Caroline, 11; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Pat Lawford and Mrs. Stephen Smith; her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss; a governess and a U.S. Secret Service agent.

Informed sources said Archbishop Ieronymos, primate of Greece, might officiate at the wedding in the Chapel of Panaghisia on the island.

Extraordinary security measures were taken to keep newsmen and photographers away when the Kennedy party landed at the Andravida Greek air force base, built with U.S. aid money as part of the NATO defense network.

Onassis, wearing a dark blue suit and red tie, met Mrs. Kennedy with a kiss on a cheek and then kissed members of her family party waiting at the air base 185 miles west of Athens.

Helicopters took them to Preveza, a small town near his island retreat, and, with police still keeping the curious away, the entire party boarded the yacht Christina.

IT APPEARED that Mrs. Kennedy and Onassis planned to remain aboard the luxurious vessel at least Friday night.

It was on the same yacht, a converted Canadian destroyer named for his daughter Christian, that Onassis frequently played host to his longtime friend, opera singer Maria Callas. Reports from the port city of Aktion, opposite Skopios, said Christian was supervising preparations for her father's wedding.

The tempestuous Miss Callas, reached by telephone in Paris, told a newsman Friday, "I wish 'hem the best of luck."

MISS CALLAS friendship with Onassis was believed to have been one of the reasons why his former wife, Tina, filed for divorce in 1959.

Plane Prop Kills Youth at Airport

A 19-year-old baggage boy for an Orange County-based commuter airline was killed Friday when he backed into a propeller of a twin-engine Cessna preparing for takeoff, according to sheriff's deputies.

Mike Aumen, 19, of 2791 E. White Star Ave., Anaheim, an employee of Cable Commercial Airlines, was killed instantly, deputies said.

The accident occurred at Orange County Airport shortly after 8 p.m.

DUMKE OUSTER PLANS SHAPED

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Plans for a referendum on a measure calling for the resignation of Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke have been announced by the Academic Senate of the California state colleges.

Dumke has not commented on the group's action Thursday, but a spokesman for his office said it was "not a surprise."

Dumke and a faction of the state college teachers have feuded for some time.

"Members of the Academic Senate might better spend their time solving educational problems such as student unrest and improving curricula," said the Dumke spokesman.

He declined to comment on charges Dumke withheld resolutions passed by the Academic Senate from the state college trustees when the statements disagreed with Dumke's personal views.

Last May, the Academic Senate threatened to dissolve itself if Dumke remained chancellor, but action on the matter was postponed in an effort at reconciliation.

Students Muss Up Regents Refuse to Ban Cleaver

SANTA CRUZ (UPI) — Max Rafferty, who pledged to confront University of California regents with the need to enforce campus regulations, Friday was nearly mobbed by a group of angry students after a regents' meeting.

"I was pounded all over," he told a news conference. "It was like someone was beating a latoo on me."

Rafferty, Republican U.S. Senate candidate, had cut short a campaign trip in Northern California to attend the regents' chaotic meeting here.

At the session, a Reagan resolution stripping the university Academic Senate of powers to set up courses or name lecturers died. Rafferty spoke not a word.

Rafferty had said he was "going to tell the regents quite frankly and quite openly that the people of California are fed up with what's going on on the campuses."

A composed but visibly shaken Rafferty was escorted from the regents' meeting to a news conference by security guards.

faculty appointments is not now and never has been delegated to the faculty, but instead remains with the regents, the president and the chancellor," said Reagan's proposal.

It also said that regents' approval is necessary before degrees can be given and that the regents, rather than the faculty, have the power "to organize or govern the university."

His resolution called for disciplining any faculty member who tries to offer the course featuring Cleaver in violation of regents' rules.

Hitch said Reagan's motion "at this time would have disastrous consequences for the university."

SOME students chanted "Mickey Mouse" and "shame, shame" at Reagan and other regents as the university's governing board encountered the largest, most vigorous student protest it has ever faced directly.

Students demanded that regents rescind their ban and permit college credit for the Berkeley experimental class featuring lectures by Cleaver.

Hitch said he proposed no action this month to change a regent ruling limiting Cleaver, and other guest lecturers, to one appearance in any UC course given for credit. UC Berkeley officials have eliminated academic credit from the course Cleaver now is lecturing but efforts to accredit it continue.

IN A NONCREDIT course, Cleaver can lecture without violating regent restrictions. He already has given two lectures and plans eight more.

Hurricane Gladys Rips Florida Gulf; 2000 Flee

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Hurricane Gladys smashed ashore amid the river country of Florida's Gulf Coast Friday night with 100-mile-an-hour winds and an eight-foot flood tide that drove more than 2,100 coastal residents from their homes.

The National Hurricane Center at Miami reported at midnight that the furious wall of the hurricane's 30-mile-wide eye had crossed the coast. The dead center of Gladys was expected to move inland between Bayport and Crystal River today.

Tides seven and eight feet high already had reached shore from Sarasota north to Tampa Bay and Crystal River. Extensive beach erosion and coastal flooding was reported as the wind-blown tide reached maximum height just as Gladys drove ashore.

The Weather Bureau warned of possible tornadoes in northeast Florida and southeast Georgia on the fringes of the hurricane, and said that on its northeastward course the hurricane should cross Florida during Saturday morning and emerge on the Atlantic coast between Jacksonville and Daytona Beach Saturday afternoon.

Sustained winds around the calm center of the eye remained about 75 miles an hour, bare hurricane force, but the Weather Bureau said gusts of 100 miles an hour were felt in squalls howling around the storm.

As Gladys advanced, the Red Cross reported some 2,000 persons had taken refuge in shelters in schools and other public buildings. More refugees from the storm still were being brought to the shelters late in the evening in shuttles and military trucks sloshing across highways to beaches.

Gladys was expected to lose much of her punch after coming ashore, but could rebuild to hurricane intensity once it reaches the Atlantic. The storm was forecast to cross the state on a course between Orlando and Gainesville.

Tot, Two Women Killed In Traffic

A 4½-year-old Anaheim girl was fatally injured Friday when she was struck by an auto when she ran into the street near her home from behind a parked car, according to police.

Laurie Billings, daughter of Mrs. Rita Billings of 715½ Webster St., died at St. Joseph's Hospital, Orange, three hours after she had been hit by an auto being driven by Ernest Meyer, 54, of 6821 Laurelton Ave., Garden Grove. Meyer was not cited.

The two suspects, Carl Jackson, 29, and Nolan Williams, 23, also of Los Angeles, were booked into the prison ward of the Los Angeles County-USC Medical Center.

bound on 95th Street when two fast-moving cars, traveling at an estimated 70 miles-per hour, roared into the intersection and smashed into the victim's car.

The auto, with Mrs. Reeves behind the wheel, sheared off a power pole and burst into flames.

Two Los Angeles women died in the flaming wreckage of their car when it was struck simultaneously by two autos, allegedly drag racing, at Main and 95th Streets in south central Los Angeles.

Los Angeles police booked both drivers of the speeding cars on suspicion of manslaughter in the deaths of Mrs. Jewel Reeves and Mrs. Manny Bennett, both of Los Angeles.

Witnesses told investigating officers that the women's car was west-

San Pedro Round Court Project Suffers Setback

By JIM MCCAULEY
From Our L.A. Bureau

That circular-courtroom construction project in San Pedro will be around for a while — past the county's 400-day completion date.

That was revealed Friday when County Engineer John A. Lambie recommended a 67-day extension on building the $1.1 million San Pedro County Building, 505 S. Centre St.

Lambie urged county supervisors to give builders Coastate Beswick Inc., of Long Beach, a Dec. 6 construction deadline.

The building was to have been completed by now and handed over to the county, but ran into a series of costly delays when Los Angeles municipal judges requested last autumn to revamp plans for rectangular courtrooms.

The judges asked for a change in plans so the courtrooms would be round — even though construction already had started.

In urging supervisors to set back the construction-completion deadline, a Lambie letter noted millwork shop drawing ground to a halt from Nov. 20 until May 22 while construction workers waited for new circular-courtroom plans on the structure.

PREVIOUSLY, the county estimated the changes in mid-construction would cost at least $16,653. This did not include the 67-day delay.

Charles H. Woodmansee, presiding judge of Los Angeles Municipal Court, contended last year that arena-style circular courts would improve efficiency. Supervisor Burton W. Chace championed the change after receiving a letter from Woodmansee.

Construction started in summer of 1967. Part of the inflated $16,653 cost was an $8,000 additional circular-courtroom fee for Long Beach architects M. A. Nishkian & Co.

Latin Airs Student Problems

Fernando Hernandez of the United Mexican-American Students at California State College at Long Beach will speak on the problems of the Mexican in American society today at 2 p.m. at the Bay Shore Branch Library, Ocean Boulevard at Bay Shore Avenue.

Sam Whitman, chairman of the sponsoring Interethnic Dialogue Committee, said the speech is first in a series which will present a Japanese and Chinese student in later weeks.

Long Ship Cargo Fire Put Out

Harbor Division firemen report the fire which had burned since Sunday in a cargo of fish meal in the Peruvian freighter SS Yavari has been extinguished.

Longshoremen were called back to the ship, docked in the Port of Los Angeles, Friday morning to complete the unloading of the vessel.

Tape Player Stolen

Larry A. Berger of Huntington Beach told Long Beach police Friday that his car, parked in the 1400 block of Palo Verde Avenue, was looted of a $185 stereo tape player.

GARDENING

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Cassia 'Carnaval' (Crown of Gold) tree to around 25-foot height furnishes showy golden spikes of blossoms for about two months starting usually in August. The fernlike dark green compound foliage is attractive. The tree tolerates cold down to about 27 degrees.

Dr. Samuel Ayres Jr., a firm believer that "it is just as easy to plant a good flowering tree to help beautify S. California as it is to set out an evergreen tree," named this Cassia 'Carnaval,' Crown of Gold, because of the masses of golden yellow blossoms.

Evergreen or flowering trees grow in lawns, too, but they need extra deep watering other than what lawn sprinklers provide.

IT IS NOT a wise idea to plant lower growing flowering shrubs, or an edging of low border plants under the tree, or at the drip line of it, even if the plants may be annuals such as pansies.

Pansies and violas, however, furnish masses of colorful flowers a month or so after planting in front of the edging part of the sunny flower bed, along a walk or a driveway, or in some small limited space where it isn't practical to grow taller flowering plants.

They'll continue to bloom four to five months if the gardener picks off the faded blossoms, feeds them a balanced plant food every three weeks to be meticulously careful how he plants pansies and violas, he finds it is much easier to set out bulbs. One of the colorful groups of bulbs that are planted now and for the next two months are tulips.

Such bulbs wisely selected as to periods of Visit your local nursery. Check up on these interesting and colorful bulbs. Select the ones you like.

BEFORE you plant, remember there are two schools of thought pertaining to planting of tulips. Some firmly believe tulips should be kept in the refrigerator for about three weeks before planting them. This chills them, causes the roots to mature slowly, hence enables plants to develop longer flower stems.

Tulips planted without chilling also seem to thrive quite well, and they, too, start to grow slowly.

Plant tulips in clusters or groups of a dozen or more for bright splashes of color. They may be set out in planters, too. Smaller group tulip plantings in among low-growing shrubs that haven't grown together add bright spots of color.

THE SOIL: prepared in advance with some steamed bone meal worked in is best. Next best is to work in well-composted leaf mold or planter mix with steamed bone meal added, then all mixed throughout the

DO IT NOW

● ADD new varieties of chrysanthemums in your garden now by selecting the blooming ones at the nursery. Snap off the flower branches when you pick the mums for indoor flower arrangement use. The jagged end of the flower branch draws up the water more easily than if you cut off the stem with a sharp knife or pruning shears.

● WE'RE IN the season now to apply a weed seed sterilant herbicide that attacks crab grass, winter annual blue grass spurge and many other blade and small broad-leaf weeds in a dichondra lawn. Or, if dichondra needs a feeding, then apply a turf fertilizer that contains such a weed seed inhibitor. As it feeds the dichondra, it kills the weed seeds.

a month, and waters them well as they need it, not keeping them constantly wet.

Gardener has to be careful when setting those plants out, not to cover the little crowns where the new growths emerge from. Crown smothered soil a half inch or deeper causes them to begin to droop a month or so later. Too much soil plus constant moisture causes them to eventually die. Check those pansies or violas, and scrape away any excess soil.

Count Shows Condors Are Surviving

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's soaring condor is holding its own in its battle for survival, the State Fish and Game Department indicated Friday in announcing results of the 1968 condor survey.

The department said 52 condors were reported sighted compared with 38 in 1965, 51 in 1966 and 46 last year.

The department said this is a "minimum head count," meaning there are at least that many condors left in the state.

The figure doesn't count those which did not leave their nests during the two-day survey or which were in the air but not sighted.

More than 130 observers stationed at 65 points in eight counties participated in the count this week. Most of the birds were seen in southern Kern County. The others were in Los Angeles, Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Fresno, Tulare and San Benito counties.

GARDEN CLINIC

Address all questions to Garden Editor, Independent, Press-Telegram, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach, Calif. 90801. No stamps or self-addressed envelopes, please. Answers are given only in this column.

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Q. When and how does one trim and cut back Irone type and dwarf geraniums? M. Harmer.

A. Old woody branches are cut back just above younger growth. As new main branches develop from base of plant, or from lower portion of older branches, the oldest woodiest ones are cut out. Such geraniums may be trimmed as needed throughout the year.

Q. I had delicious Sapote fruit with four seeds given to me. Can I plant the seeds to get the trees? if so how, or can I buy the plant in this area? E. Bellenbaum.

A. Sapote, the white one, is called "Mexican apple." Yes, you can start the dry seeds in a flat or in a pot. Garden soil must be mixed with half compost soil or leaf mold, or planter mix. Barely cover the seeds with the mixed soil. Be sure to put a glass over the flat or pot, and be careful how often you water it. The container must be in a lath house or in shade, preferably under a spreading shrub. If seed are started in a greenhouse, no glass cover is needed. Yes, you can purchase a well-established tree. If your local nurseryman doesn't have it, or isn't inclined to order one for you, Armstrong Nursery listed Sapote in one of their older catalogs.

Q. Have a question regarding my Bonsai tree. I feed it bone meal and was told to give it super-thrive. What kind of soil do I use? I have good soil under ferns in the yard. Is that OK? Where can I get super-thrive?

A. Yes, you can use soil under ferns in the yard. Larry Sasano, a bonsai hobbyist and authority, recommends you first sterilize that soil by putting it into a metal container in the oven at 350 degrees heat for one half hour. He doesn't recommend super-thrive. Mix cottonseed meal and blood meal into a paste or pellet and put a little on the soil. Each time the tree is watered it receives a little food. If you still wish to use super-thrive, you'll find some at some of your local nurseries or garden shops.

Q. My "Tiff-Green hybrid bermuda lawn has just completed its third season. It is heavily matted and needs renovation. What is the best procedure and what is the best time? Duane G. Olsen.

A. If it were mine, I'd scalp it in April. "Scalp" means to mow the lawn three or four times. Each succeeding mowing, adjust the mower cutting bar to drop lower. The final mowing almost "shaves" the lawn off at the soil level. Soak well for several days. Week or so later feed it. At this time I'd fertilize it with a rich blade grass fertilizer. Lawn soil should be moist. Grass tops must be dry when fertilizer is applied. Use only the amount recommended on the package. Wash it off the leaves and water in well. Such a feeding would help it to stay a bit greener throughout the winter season.

planting area.

Tulips, like other bulbs, must be given generous drinks of water to help them develop their normal flower stem height.

We've seen some sad-looking plantings of Dutch hyacinths, tulips and daffodils with short stems. Some stems were so short the blossoms were either at soil level or just slightly above it.

Sarah Vaughan Vocalizes Sublimely at Westside Room

By JIM NESBITT
Staff Writer

Sarah Vaughan, now appearing at the Westside Room of the Century

Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles, offers the most sublime, gorgeous vocalizing heard in the Southland in six years.

Why six years? Because that's how long it has been since Miss Vaughan's last club appearance here, and no one can substitute for her.

She is worth waiting for. Her 45-minute performance, backed by Herb Mickman's lightly swinging trio and totally free of artifice or gimmick, is a dazzler, a knockout in a way that no brassy, over-produced supper club spectacular could be.

Thursday night she offered 14 songs, ranging from lush ballads such as "Round Midnight" and "Alfie" to joyous, scintillating numbers like "On a Clear Day" and "Sometimes I'm Happy." Each she infused with a jazz spirit, and each she made uniquely her own with inspired improvisations.

Even "My Funny Valentine," probably the most overworked pop tune extant, gains an entirely fresh sound in her rendition.

Miss Vaughan holds a priceless advantage over every other singer, of course: her voice. Rich, full-throated, it has a hypnotic quality like Miles Davis' trumpet, except that whereas Davis transfixes and can be vaguely disturbing, Miss Vaughan envelops her listeners in shimmering, mellifluous ambrosia. The first lady of song is Ella Fitzgerald, granted. But Sarah Vaughan is its goddess.

Mae West Returns to Screen Career

New York Times Service

NEW YORK — Mae West, who has not appeared in movies for a quarter of a century, will return to the screen early next year in a film version of her play, "Sextet," in which she starred in Florida in 1961. It will be co-produced for Warner Brothers-Seven Arts by James T. Aubrey Jr., former president of the Columbia Broadcasting System television network, and Hunt Stromberg Jr.

The screenplay was written by Leonard Spiegelgass, the playwright and scenarist, with the assistance of Miss West.

A director will be signed shortly, according to a studio executive, who also said the company plans to start production "as soon as we can, perhaps in January."

Miss West, 75, made her last film in 1943, a comedy titled, "The Heat's

On," that also featured Victor Moore and William Gaxton. She has made recordings and television appearances in recent years.

She is currently preparing a TV special, "A Night With Mae West," that is being produced by Universal and Robert Wise Productions.

"Sextet," Miss West explained, is a comedy about a movie star who has six husbands. "I appeared in it only in Florida because I didn't want to spend the time and the energy needed to bring it to Broadway."

MOVIE GUIDE

As a guide to moviegoers, this newspaper on Wednesdays and Saturdays lists capsule contents of major motion pictures playing the Long Beach area. Most classifications represent the judgment of the Film Board of National Organizations.

SALT AN PEPPER — Sammy Davis Jr. and Peter Lawford star as London nightclub owners in a spy spoof which involves them in a conspiracy to overthrow Britain. Adults, mature young people.

ELVIRA MADIGAN — A romantic, exquisitely photographed film set in 19th-century Sweden, with a young army officer deserting family and career for an appealing young circus performer. Adults, mature young people.

THE ODD COUPLE — Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau in lively comedy about two men who set up housekeeping together after breaking up with their wives. Adults, mature young people.

THE GRADUATE — Satire about a young man who breaks out of the materialistic world of his elders, with serious-comic overtones including his seduction by an older woman. Adults, mature young people.

HOW SWEET IT IS! — Broad marital farce about the misadventures of an amorous middle-aged couple, Debbie Reynolds and James Garner, on a trip to Europe. Adults, mature young people.

Medal for Zanuck

PARIS (UPI)—France has made 20th Century-Fox president Darryl F. Zanuck a commander of the Order of Arts and Letters. It is the first time the award has been given to an American film maker.

BOOK REVIEWS

Our Ersatz Culture

THE CULTURE VULTURES. By Alan Levy. Putnam, $6.95.

Levy breaks his lance on some mighty powerful institutions, namely the Book of the Month Club, the established lecture circuit, the creative writers' schools; Broadway's Golden Dozen, Esquire magazine and educational TV.

These, and others, he says, are peddling ersatz culture... nay, shoving it down the public throat. He presents a critical survey of what he terms corrupt culture merchandising.

He presents what is said to be an inside look at how books are made and broken by the all-powerful Book of the Month Club board of selections and he details some of its goofs. Esquire he calls a "male Vogue," and claims it forces fashion on men. Authors who are in a hurry for a buck, even those considered tops, dash out junk for its pages, says Levy.

THE lecture racket, as he labels it, has declined into a farce since the days of Chautauqua, Levy charges. He surveys the careerists — the men and women who live off the arts, often winning more public recognition than the artists they represent.

The book is a commentary on our culture complex and presents some little-known facts about the behind-the-scenes operators. — Bill Shelton legislation on the domestic scene. Historian Curry's book shows us another war Congress at work — that of 1861-63. The first Civil War Congress, the author shows us, blueprinted the nation's social, political and economic development for the balance of the 19th century.

Besides its measures directly dealing with slavery and the war, this Congress gave the nation the Morrill Land-Grant College Act, the Homestead Act, a national currency and a new tax setup. "Blueprint for America" fills a long-standing gap in our knowledge of the Civil War years. — Nat Honig

THE BEAR FOR THE F.B.I. By Melvin Van Peebles. Trident, $4.50.

Melvin Van Peebles (he wrote and produced the motion picture "The Story of a Three Day Pass") is a Negro writer of more than moderate talent, who refuses "to be obsessed with the racial problem... I'm obsessed with the human problem."

His newest book is an evocation of a young man's life, from the narrator's memories of his boyhood to his graduation from college. Simple things, simple people are poignantly and profoundly painted — the narrator's inarticulate but dignified father; the mother, grand in her lovingness; the boy's first meeting with prejudice and hatred.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by JEANE DIXON

Forecast for Sunday
Your birthday today! During the year ahead prepare for the ending of many long-suffering, recondite what you can no longer accept. Changes will often be sudden but quite beneficial if you avoid sensational financial schemes. Today's natives thrive on personal opposition.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Your Sunday day is productive today; be re-creative to self-improvement activities. Retire early to give your unconscious a chance to catch up with your experience.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Reading and study are productive today; be re-creative to self-improvement activities. Retire early to give your unconscious a chance to catch up with your experience.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Hobbies, sports, and public amusement suit your mood. Make the rounds with friends and relatives. Seldom is there likely to be so pleasant a day.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): Considerable family plans. Visitors are likely to bring you interesting tidings. Spend the evening going places yourself, but relax early.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 21): Careful handling of the missions entrusted to you brings satisfaction. Exercise your mental powers, settle details of plans. Visits can be pleasant this evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22-Sept. 21): Be prepared for a minor disappointment in an emotional matter. Some people are a bit touchy about what you do with your busy yourself with your favorite studies.

LIBRA (Sept. 22-Oct. 21): Visitors bring more than they take if you count the intrigues and intellectual stimulation. Be the gracious host or so visiting this pleasant day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22-Nov. 21): This is a day of proud visiting. Lull the processes are favored. Follow a sudden, hunch and be aware of what you evolved by so doing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Serve to learn something new today. It will more than reward any effort you put forth. Get a bit of exercise and turn in early for the big tomorrow.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A little effort goes a long way today. Organize the things you have been trying to get to for some time into a workable schedule. Enjoy a pleasant day.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Intellectual, rather than physical exertion takes precedence today. Press for lasting agreements with relatives and in-laws. Begin laying out additional plans.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Your church needs your support today. Check over your position, your prospects, your holdings; the results should cheer up somewhat. Relax with reading this evening.

The above is only a partial description of the terms and provisions of National Casualty Company policy form HM 6415.

NO AGE LIMITS WORLD WIDE COVERAGE

Today the Independent, Press-Telegram brings you a new concept in reader service insurance.

A policy that will be of real help to you the next time you must face the tremendous bills that come when a person gets hurt these days.

And this policy pays the money benefits whether or not you have other insurance, Blue Cross, or Medicare.

There are no age limits. Each member of the family, from the youngest to the oldest, can be covered, with the cost a modest $1 a month per person.

The Independent, Press-Telegram has offered National Casualty Company accident insurance as a reader service since 1935.

Claims paid to our insured readers have totalled more than $1,800,000.

Big hospital benefit

In cooperation with this pioneer in such insurance, we are now able to bring you this fabulous, new accident policy at unbelievably low cost.

A newspaper-sponsored policy has never before included such a substantial hospital benefit—along with the 7 other outstanding coverages listed below.

Someone has wisely said, "Unless you have added to your hospital coverage in the past two years, you are badly underinsured, because you can't even get a ward room in most hospitals for less than $40 a day."

Pays you $510 a month

Not only does this new policy pay you $510.00 a month in Hospital Benefits (at $17 a day) it pays for as long as 90 days even if the accident happens on the day you are insured.

And month after month this coverage increases until you have coverage for 150 days with a maximum payment of $2,550.00 in Hospital Benefits alone. These benefits are paid to you in cash to use as you please. They are tax-free.

7 other coverages

If you are hospitalized as the result of an accident, you get not just the Hospital Benefit but these other coverages:

1. $30.00 ambulance expense
2. X-ray expense
3. Surgical benefit for fractures, dislocations, skin grafts, etc. Up to $900.00.
- Also,
4. There are substantial accidental death benefits
5. Dismemberment benefits

THIS POLICY MAKES HISTORY

This is the 50th year that leading U. S. newspapers have offered Accident Insurance as a service to readers.

The National Casualty Company, which pioneered such reader service policies, developed this new, epoch-making policy for our readers to mark the event.

Today practically all important newspapers sponsor some form of reader service insurance but none with the range of benefits included in this "Golden Anniversary" policy.

"Golden Anniversary" means for you a Golden Opportunity to add to your insurance protection today when hospital and medical costs are skyrocketing.

For only

a month

6. There is a Specified Disease expense benefit up to $1,000.00.

And even in minor accidents, you can collect. In addition to the ambulance and X-ray expense benefits, if they are required, there is a—

7. Doctor bill expense—as much as $30.00.

It is easy to see how valuable these money benefits can be—when you need money most because someone is hurt.

They can be of tremendous help.

Best to act now

But you must act now to make sure of these benefits. Use the simple coupon in this advertisement in order—make sure you mail it or hand to the one who collects for your newspaper—there are no age limits, there is no medical examination. Your policy will be sent to you promptly. But please hurry.

IMPORTANT!!!

If you already have one of our reader service policies, do not use this application, unless you wish to enroll other family members. The new, improved policy will be mailed to you on or about November 1st, if you pay the newspaperboy monthly. Watch for it. It will be sent to those who have been paying by mail annually when their next premium comes due.

'Soul' Was a Glorious Show

By GEORGE ERES
TV-Radio Editor

The young lady puts a plate before the man seated at the table. He picks up the crisply burned toast:

"I know black is beautiful, but this is ridiculous," he says.

Dumdadum dum dum, dadadi da di da, dada dum-m, da didida . . .

The man's arms encircle the girl. He turns to the camera and grins slyly:

"Who says blondes have more fun?"

Dumdadadi di dum, dum da di di di dum, dada dum-m, da didida . . .

THINGS like that were on "Soul" Thursday night on Ch. 4. It was a glorious black version of the glorious white "Laugh-In." It was, in a way, too, a backlash against the blacks who believe that their full development can come only in a highly segregated black community, and are contemptuous of "Negroes." The barbershop skit which offers such a spokesman making the argument in satirical vein and the lack of ability to dig in the amazed "hmmmm" of the others, for example.

I SUPPOSE some blacks will say it was the kind of Negro show the white man wants the Negro to put on. Yet it was written, directed and played by blacks and backed by Negro technicians for the most part.

If you "dug" it, according to the definition on the show, you've got "soul." I "dug" it and even thought it a superior version of "Laugh-In" which has been blue reaching for laughs. Still, why a separate if equal version of "Laugh-In"?

Most of the performers on "Soul" ought to be showing up regularly on "Laugh-In." One I keep remembering is a pixielike face that, a la Goldie Hawn, just pops up on the screen in wordless comment at some of the gags.

THE STATENDAM, Holland-American ship, will be cruising between Long Beach and Catalina for a week starting Nov. 4, as the scene for location shooting for "The Queen and I," a new TV pilot starring Larry Storch. The ship will be rechristened "The Amsterdam Queen" for the pilot. . . . Ozzie Nelson will guest star in the Nov. 3 segment of "The Mothers-in-Law" titled, "Didn't You Used to be Ossie Snick?"

Leave It To Larry
By LARRY MEDER
HARBOR CHEVROLET

In every town there is one senior citizen, respected and loved by everyone. A small town in Iowa was no exception—the general store owner having endeared himself to all.
Time had changed the lively stable into a garage and the corner grocery into a supermarket, yet because old Mr. Cass had carried so many on credit during hard times, he struggled on. When one of Mr. Cass's friends found out he still had 320 buggy whips in stock, he persuaded all his fellow club members and friends to buy them up just to help the old gent out.
As a customer bought the last buggy whip, Mr. Cass said wistfully, "Golly, I've had such a run on buggy whips—I JUST WIRED CHICAGO FOR 10-DOZEN MORE!!!"
Folks, you won't get whipped when you trade in that old buggy to Ol' Larry at Harbor Chev., 3770 Cherry. Phone GA 6-3341.

Beamon Wows Spikedom—29-2½

BY JOHN DIXON
Staff Writer

MEXICO CITY—Friday it rained so hard the ducks were carrying umbrellas but that didn't slow the record onslaught at Olympic Stadium.

As the Games of the XIX Olympiad splashed through the sixth of eight days, five events were contested and four were world records. The fifth was only an Olympic record.

The United States, grabbing gold medals as though they were 10 peso notes, won the long jump and 400 to boost its title total in men's track to eight. Russia has won three, the elevated African nations three and the rest of the world four.

With two world record holders and two former Olympic Games champions in the field, the long jump figured to be as hotly contested as a fire dance on the equator.

But it wasn't. Yank Bob Beamon broke it open on the first leap. Ralph Boston's Olympic record was 26-7 ¾ and he shared the world record with Igor Ter-Ovanesyan of Russia at 27-4 ¾.

Beamon got up a head of steam like twin locomotives climbing Pike's Peak, raced down the artificial runway as though the police were chasing him and bicycled a high, beautiful 29 feet, 2½ inches.

No world record has ever been broken by such a margin. No world record ranks as high in scoring tables.

Someone upstairs was favoring Beamon when he jumped. There was a maximum favorable wind of 2.0 meters and the sky was dreary but dry.

When the others leaped there was no wind and the clouds had let loose an orgy.

Beamon took only one other jump, 28-4½.

The silver medal went to an unknown, West German Klaus Beer, who leaped 26-10¼, longest of his life.

Three-time Olympian Boston was third at 26-9¼. Tier-Ovanesyan was next at 26-7¾ and defending champion Lynn Davies of Great Britain was ninth at 26-½.

Boston said "I felt real strong but the rain came and dampened my spirits — and me."

The 400-meter sprint was a three-man race from the starting blocks to the finish tape.

Larry James enjoyed a slight lead over Lee Evans and Ron Freeman in the early going but he didn't enjoy it long.

Evans, as strong as a plowhorse, led the rest of the way. At the tape he fronted James by one meter and Freeman by four.

Aliming at the Olympic record of 44.9 and his own pending world record of 44.0, Evans stopped the clock at 43.8. James' split was 43.9, Freeman's 44.4.

"My legs gave out," said James. "I couldn't maintain my balance it was a mental thing, too. Evans has been beating me all year."

The U.S. had a chance for a 1-2-3 sweep in the women's 200, but the pretties swept 4-6-7.

Wyomia Tyus tried to steal it but a tall cop named Irina Kirszenstein from Poland handcuffed her at the halfway mark.

Kirszenstein's clocking was 22.5, far under her own world record of 22.7. Yank Barbara Farrell was fourth in 22.9, Tyus sixth in 23.0, Margaret Bailes seventh in 23.1.

Maureen Caird of Australia defeated favored teammate Pam Kilborn in the 80-meter hurdles, winning by a meter, 10.3 to 10.4, and deadheading the world record. Pat Van Wolvelaere of the U.S. was a good fourth in 10.5.

Lia Manoliu of Rumania won the women's pie plate contest with a throw of 191-2½, short of the world record of 195-10½ but better than the Olympic record of 187-10.

Olga Connolly of the U.S., a four-time discus Olympian, was sixth at 173-9.

Jim Ryun led 1,500-meter qualifying at 3:45.9. Kippy Keino of Kenya, competing in his third event, Rian 3:46.9, while Martin Liguori won his heat in 3:52.7. Tom Van Ruden captured his in 3:59.1.

BEAMON DIGS OUT A WORLD RECORD
Bob Beamon of El Paso, Tex., digs his feet into sand pit after record shattering long jump of 8.90 meters (29 feet, 2½ inches) on his first attempt in Olympic Games Friday. No world record has ever been broken by such a margin.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia 76ers made coach Jack Ramsay's professional coaching debut a success Friday by trouncing the Lakers 114-96 in the National Basketball Association opener for both teams.

Will Chamberlain, traded from the 76ers to the Lakers, was limited to 15 points in his first return appearance here.

The 76ers opened a 30-point lead at the start of the second half, and the Lakers could get no closer than 10 points the rest of the way.

The 76ers bothered the Lakers with a zone press in the first period which ended with Philadelphia in front 31-14 thanks to the sensational shooting of veteran Hal Greer. He scored 19 of his 35 points in the period and had 16 of 17 Philadelphia points during the last six minutes of the quarter.

The 76ers led 61-38 at halftime, and their biggest margin came at 68-33 with 8:08 left in the third quarter.

Archie Clark, who came to Philadelphia in the Chamberlain trade, had 20 points.

moved from the United States Olympic team.

Their Olympic credentials have been withdrawn, they have been ejected from the Olympic Village. Smith and Carlos are staying in downtown hotels where they may remain indefinitely. They have "open" airline tickets to their homes.

The United States Olympic Committee apologized to Mexico Friday for the conduct of Smith and Carlos in victory ceremonies following the 200 meters finals Wednesday. Smith, the gold medalist, and Carlos, the bronze medalist, each wore a black glove over a clinched fist, black scarves at their necks and buttons proclaiming "Olympic Project for Human Rights."

As the band played the Star Spangled Banner in what usually is a tear-filled ceremony, Smith and Carlos each raised a hand high in a black power salute and focused on the ground refusing to look at the American flag being raised.

In a press conference following the ceremony they conducted bitter tirades against all whites.

Douglas Roby, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee board of directors, informed Carlos and Smith of their expulsion, a decision made by the group in a five-hour meeting.

Damp eyed from emotion and his voice breaking, Everett Barnes, executive director of the Olympic Committee, said "I am embarrassed, all of us are embarrassed. It makes our country look like the devil."

The International Olympic Committee went into emergency session Thursday after the bizarre demonstration on the victory stand. Avery Brundage, president of the IOC, said

Auto Racing—Figure 8 stocks, Ascot Park, 8:15 p.m.

Roller Games—Olympic Auditorium, 8:30 p.m.

Amateur Boxing—Harbor Boxing Gym card (nine fights), Long Beach Auditorium, 8:30 p.m.

"A basic principle of the Olympic Games is that politics play no part. This principle has always been accepted with enthusiasm. U.S. athletes in a victory ceremony deliberately violated this universally accepted principle by using the occasion to advertise domestic political views."

Almost at the same time Smith and Carlos were shaking their fists, a French gold medalist was crying for pride and joy at having won a medal for her country.

Friday Lee Evans, another black militant, won the 400 meters. Two other black Americans, Larry James and Ron Freeman, won the silver and bronze medals. On the victory stand they wore black berets. They waved them to the crowd following the ceremony.

Evans said, "I did have a lot of things on my mind but I just put them out and thought about winning a gold medal like a friend of mine (Tommie Smith) did. . . I feelee I won this gold medal for black people in the United States and all over the world." Asked if he also won for any whites, Evans replied, "yes, I did. I have white friends at San Jose and all over the world."

Evans added, "In joining Harry Edward's (black power) group, Tommie and I have grown a lot. If I had to do it again I would support the black boycott (of the Olympic Games). I've learned a lot supporting something that most people are against."

Ralph Boston, bronze medalist in the long jump, was barefoot on the victory stand.

"It was a form of protest against sending Smith and Carlos home without talking it over with them," the popular Negro said.

"Now maybe they will send me home. I've been asking them for a week to let me go home after the long jump. I've got to go to work."

Vikes Take It Nice and Easy, Pin Down Pierce 28-6 at Vets

By DAVE DANIEL

Playing a slow and steady—almost conservative—brand of football, Long Beach City College took a 28-6 win from Pierce College Friday night before 3,133 fans at Veterans Stadium.

The Vikings, forsaking their usual flagrant passing attack, combined a good defense with tenacious running to move their record to 3-1-1 with a 2-1 Metropolitan Conference mark. Pierce remains winless at 0-5.

The Vikings ran with the ball 50 times and hobbling quarterback Dennis Dummit put the ball in the air only 15 times—just half of what is usually normal.

Keeping the ball on the ground did the trick for coach Paul Chafe's crew. While the Vikes weren't overpowering, they were highly effective, rushing for 102 yards of the 226 total offense. Dummit's arm accounted for the other 124 yards.

The defense held Pierce to 230 net yards, including 133 on the ground, which was almost 200 yards less than last week when Bakcrsfield ground out 334 yards against LBCC.

The Vikings jumped off to a 7-0 lead in the first period with halfback John Merino scoring the first of two touchdowns to run his season total to eight—second best in the conference.

He capped a 66-yard, 12-play drive the first time the Vikings got the ball with a three-yard spurt up the middle.

Pierce closed the gap to 7-6 with only 50 seconds to play in the half when Brahma quarterback Tim Von Dalm carried the ball over from one yard out.

At the half, it appeared the game would be neck and neck down to the wire until the LBCC defense took over.

In the third period, Pierce was unable to move the ball against the Vikings and didn't get a first down until the final two minutes of the frame. In the meantime, the Vikings showed some unexpected razzle-dazzle on a nifty 41-yard scoring pass from Dummit to tight end Denny Mayfield to move LBCC ahead, 14-6.

Dummit's primary receiver was fullback Ruben Castanon, who made a fine showing in his first offensive start of the year. However, the pass bounced off his hands over the middle and Mayfield, who was blocking for Castanon, grabbed the ball in mid-air and raced untouched for the score.

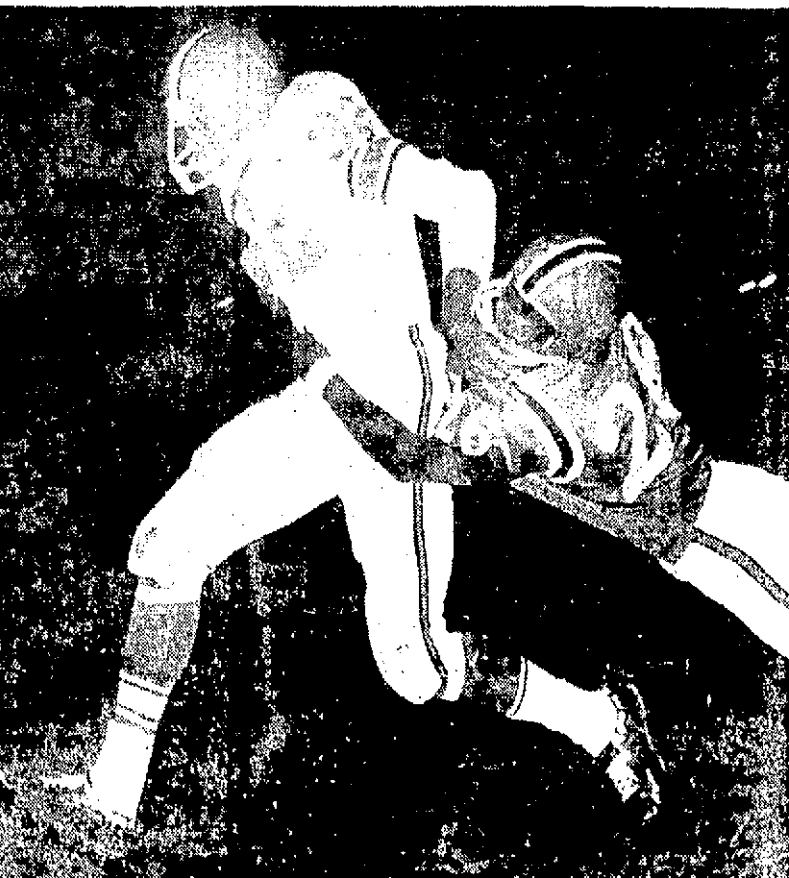

That gave the Vikings the momentum they needed.

In the final period, the Vikings chewed up the clock with a 20-play drive that culminated in Merino's second touchdown — a one-yard dive after the Vikings had marched 80 yards.

After the kickoff, defensive captain Jeff Severson picked off a Von Dalm pass and raced 23 yards for the final touchdown of the night. Severson would not have scored if it wasn't for a Buster LaCoste block to put him in the open on the return.

The Vikings kicked off again and on the first play from scrimmage, safety Jay Morrison intercepted the third Brahma pass of the game on the Long Beach 15 to stop the Pierce drive.

WILL TOMMIE SMITH PROTEST AFFECT PRO GRID CAREER?

By AL LARSON
Staff Writer

Two years ago Ram fans looked forward to the day Tommie Smith would be tracking down touchdown passes. But Smith's black power demonstration on the Olympic victory stand has altered the thinking of many pro football fans.

One indignant fan called this paper Friday to announce he would cancel his season tickets if the Rams signed the former San Jose State track star.

Smith, who has not played football since his high school days, was drafted by the Rams two years ago as a future choice. But a club spokesman said that as far as he knew Ram scouts had not contacted Smith since he was drafted.

"Since he planned to compete in the Olympics we didn't want to jeopardize his amateur status in any way,"

Asked if the Rams still were interested in Smith, coach George Allen said following Friday's practice at

Blair Field: "Right now all I'm thinking about is Sunday's game with Atlanta."

"I talked with Tommie before the Olympic Trials in Los Angeles. He also wrote me a short letter. But he said all he was thinking about at that time was the Olympics."

"If he has the desire to play football we'll certainly welcome him to camp," Allen said. The Ram coach noted that since Tommie did not play football in college there is no way to tell how he would fare in the pros.

"We know he's a good athlete, but that's all. He'd be a gamble, but a good one," Allen added.

"It's our understanding that he has a service obligation so wouldn't be able to play pro ball for a year or so," the club official pointed out.

Comical relief was provided by one who suggested Smith would have an advantage catching passes in frigid Green Bay because he's used to wearing gloves, alluding to the ceremony when the 200-meter gold medalist wore a black glove as a gesture of black power.

RAMS TABBED BY 19, UNDERDOG TO COLTS

Only Atlanta stands between the Rams and their long-expected showdown with Baltimore next Sunday, but Las Vegas pickmaker Jimmie (The Greek) Snyder Friday quoted the Colts as 3-point favorites.

The Rams remain 19-point choices to polish off the Falcons Sunday at the Coliseum despite the fact coach George Allen should have held team meetings in Community Hospital.

Allen said he will not know until just before game time if any of his walking wounded will play. If Dick Bass and Tommy Mason are unable to start, Henry Dyer and Willie Ellison will take over the running back positions. Backing them up are Mike Dennis and Vilnis Ezerins.

Other doubtful performers are Lamar Lundy, Charlie Cowan and Joe Scibelli. If they're not ready to go, Gregg Schumacher, Jim Wilson and Don Chuy are geared to step in.

Wilson Squeezes Past Rams on Burroughs' Late Pass, 6-0

By KEN PIVERNEZ
Staff Writer

Turned back all night, Jeff Burroughs combined with Mike Leininger on a 29-yard scoring strike with only 1:24 left in the game to give Wilson High a hard-earned 6-0 win over Millikan Friday at Stephens Field in opening Moore League play.

It was a heart-breaking loss for the Rams who have never beaten Wilson and will never come any closer than they did in the bitter defensive struggle.

After Millikan's Randy Jagger had missed a 27-yard field goal with 2:36 remaining, Wilson finally got everything working and drove 80 yards in 8 plays for the lone TD.

Until then, Millikan had recovered three Bruin fumbles and had seen its defense gain confidence as the game went along real-

Anderson Leads Way Poly Starts Fast, Lashes Jordan

By GARY ELLIS

Poly High exploded for 26 points in the second quarter Friday night to smash the Jordan Panthers 46-13 in the opening of Moore League play for both schools.

An awesome Jackrabbit ground machine ate up the Panthers for 421 yards and a slinging Rabbit defense held Jordan to five plays in the third quarter and didn't yield a second half first down until 7:21 was left in the fourth quarter.

Poly tailback Maurice Anderson, who played only the first half, did most of the damage, scoring three times and gaining 129 yards in 16 carries.

Fullback Steve Helm carried the Panther offense, gaining 133 yards in 14 tries and running 60 yards in the fourth quarter for a touchdown.

Jordan opened the game with a 65-yard march to the Poly two before the Jackrabbit defense dug in. It was the only scoring threat for the Panthers until late in the fourth quarter.

The Poly defense capitalized on a Jordan fumble in the second quarter to put its offensive machine in gear. The Rabbits moved 85 yards in eight plays with Anderson punching over from the three.

Four minutes later Poly traveled 56 yards with Anderson tallying from the four.

Panther quarterback John Edwards, attempting to pass, had the ball blocked and intercepted

Micki shot the works and picked an extremely difficult dive — a reverse

Hayes Hot as Rockets Nab Win

Combined News Services

Rookies Elvin Hayes and Rick Adelman combined for 46 points Friday night to give the San Diego Rockets a 123-103 win over San Francisco.

In other NBA games, the expansion Phoenix Suns exploded for 33 points in the first eight minutes to beat Seattle 116-107, and Boston bounced Detroit 106-88.

Hayes scored 32 points and limited Warrior center Nate Thurmond to 18. But it was Adelman, 6-1 sparkplug from Loyola of Los Angeles, who turned the tide by scoring 11 of his 14 points in the decisive second period. Ex-USA and Laker forward John Block added 25 for the winners.

Gail Goodrich scored 27 points to pace Phoenix.

The Celtics shot only .239 in the first half but came back with a hot-shooting third quarter (.704) to whip the Pistons.

49er Poloists Edge Trojans in Wild Game, 12-10

Cal State Long Beach and USC committed 95 team fouls, 11 players fouled out and one Trojan left the game with a possible broken jaw in a wild non-conference water polo match won by the 49ers 12-10 Friday in the Cal State pool.

The 49ers hiked their season record to 7-2 on the strength of Bob Sarr's eight goals. The Trojans are now 6-3 on the year.

Trojan left guard Mike Pickett exited the game in the second period following a wild melee at center pool. Preliminary observation showed a possible fractured jaw.

READY FOR COLISEUM CLASH TODAY

Huskies Beware! O.J. Healthy Again

By LOEL SCHIRADER
Staff Writer

Whether practice makes perfect will be tested today when those fierce football rivals, USC and Washington, clash at 1:30 p.m. in the Coliseum.

In the Trojans' season opener against Minnesota, halfback O.J. Simpson ground out a personal high of 236 yards rushing.

The battering the Gophers gave Simpson confined him to little more than running exercises prior to the next three games and the wondrous one "faded off" to an average of 192 yards for that stretch.

This past week, however, Simpson has been healthy enough to participate in all Trojan drills and reports his bruised thigh "feels better than it has since the season started."

Unless O. J. is guilty of exaggeration, the Huskies could be in for a miserable afternoon against the top-ranked Trojans, who are 4-0 as opposed to Washington's record of one victory, two defeats and a tie.

Simpson already has amassed 808 yards in four games and has five NCAA records within sight. Not only that, he had his greatest 1967 day against the Huskies with 235 yards rushing and a 16-yard touchdown pass.

With all this in mind, oddsmakers have proclaimed the Trojans 20-point favorites.

The Huskies have blown themselves out of Rose Bowl contention with Pacific-8 losses to Oregon State and Oregon.

But, as Husky quarterback Jerry Kaloper from Fer-min Lasuen High in San Pedro warned early in the week, "we're going to have plenty to say about which team gets to Pasadena."

According to Kaloper and other observers of the Washington team, the Huskies are within the length of a football of becoming a good football team.

The return of injured Jim Cope and Gary James should strengthen the Huskies' ground game, which still has managed to function well with Harvey Blanks and Carl Wojciechowski.

Blanks leads the attack with a 5.6 average per carry.

But it'll be up to the Washington defense to make it a game. Except for the Oregon game, which was played in a driving rainstorm, it has been porous.

You can't leave holes for Simpson.

SENDS GAUCHOS AGAINST 49ERS TONIGHT

Curtice Eager to Shuck 'Cousin' Title

By JIM McCORMACK
Staff Writer

UC Santa Barbara football coach Jack Curtice may have spent years coaching in El Paso, Salt Lake City and on the

7:30 KICKOFF

Because of the increased length of this year's games, tonight's Cal State Long Beach-UC Santa Barbara clash will begin at 7:30.

Fann at Stanford, but he still doesn't enjoy being anyone's country cousin.

That especially holds true to Cal State Long Beach's Don Reed, Jack's rival in an annual game of coaching tonight at Veterans Stadium.

When tonight's contest begins at 7:30, Reed will be seeking his sixth win in a perfect career of faceoffs with Curtice.

All of Reed's triumphs have come in outstanding football games and tonight's promises to be the best of all.

Tonight, the Gauchos are going to doubleteam Reed.

Jack's son, Jim, is Santa Barbara's starting quarterback. Quite likely, too, if the Gauchos' end coach Curtice's frustration, it will be behind the play of his son.

"He is a very fine quarterback," Reed reports. "We know one thing, if we don't contain him, we are going to be in trouble."

"He is a fine passer and an outstanding scrambler. We hope to put pressure on him quickly and consistently or he'll kill us."

In five games, Curtice has passed 124 times, completing 65 for 738 yards and seven touchdowns. He displayed how devastating he can be last weekend against University of Hawaii.

Jim connected on 15 of 19 first-half passes as the Gauchos broke quickly and sprinted to a 49-14 victory.

A secondary matchup which could get far in determining who wins the first one, features 49er Don Evans and Gaucha Dave Chapple.

Chapple has earned two letters at UCSB with his feet. He is Santa Barbara's punter and is averaging a nifty 41.1 per boot with a long kick of 75 yards.

Evans came in to his own last weekend, averaging 46.3 yards per kick against El Paso.

On the season, the Cal State junior is averaging 40.2 yards in 30 kicks with a long shot of 68 yards.

"Field position will play as big a part in this game as it did last weekend," Reed warns. "In fact it is always a big part of a game."

"It dictates offenses and defenses. With the type of teams we have, it could be the determining factor in our game with Santa Barbara."

Santa Barbara is 2-2-1 with wins over Hawaii (49-14) and Whittier (59-14), a 14-14 tie with Texas-El Paso and losses to Nevada (17-13) and Tampa (18-7).

The 49ers are 1-3 with a 22-21 win over Texas-El Paso and losses to Northern Arizona (26-21), Texas A&I (35-7) and Valley State (21-20).

KNAC will carry tonight's game beginning with Profile 49er at 7:15.

Bruins Even With Cal in 'Rose' Battle

By DAVE LEWIS
Staff Writer

BERKELEY — Odds-makers are calling today's crucial Pacific Eight donnybrook between UCLA and California even.

The Bruins and Golden Bears are as evenly matched on paper as the odds indicate as they go into one of the key games of this year's race to the Rose Bowl.

It figures to be a punishing physical battle between the top two defensive teams in the conference, according to the latest statistics. California has yielded only 17 points in four games.

The big question, and one which will change the whole complexion of the game is answered properly, is how long Bill Bolden will be able to play and if he will be able to function in a near-normal manner after being out of action since the first game with a shoulder separation.

It's only been 28 days since the injury to his right shoulder. Bill is eager to play and UCLA coach Tommy Prothro says he expects to use him. However, Jim Nader will start for the Bruins at quarterback.

Bolden has been working out the past week and a half and has been throwing harder and harder in practice with each passing day. Bill says "the shoulder hasn't been bothering me too much, but the doctor gave me a shot of cortisone Tuesday to help relieve any possible soreness."

With Bolden out of action, the Bruins have lost their last two games to Eastern powers Syracuse and Penn State. But if he comes back strong now, they feel they still have a good shot at the Rose Bowl.

UCLA still is unbeaten in conference play with a 1-0 record off the 42-14 win over Washington State.

The Bruins have won 15 out of their last 17 games with their Berkeley brothers, including a 37-14 triumph a year ago.

But California has fielded one of its finest teams in several years and which was undefeated until being rudely upended by Army, 10-7 last week on a 62-yard pass play in the final three minutes of play.

Before that, Cal had rolled over Michigan 21-7, Colorado, 28-0, and San Jose, 46-0.

Cal has some outstanding players this year headed by Ed White, 6-3, 240-pound defensive guard who is considered by many pro scouts to be the outstanding college lineman in the country this year.

Ohio St. Chasing Trojans

Associated Press

Ohio State's Buckeyes, bucking to topple Southern California from the No. 1 spot in major college football, try to add to their reputation today against Northwestern—the No. 1 foil for the nation's leading teams.

The Buckeyes of Woody Hayes, led by sophomore quarterback Rex Kern, will be without the services of injured halfback John Brockington but should be able to easily handle the worn and weary Wildcats, who have lost their four games.

ON SUCCESSFUL Saturdays, Northwestern has been paired against an imposing line-up of the country's top teams, losing to Miami, Fla., No. 12 in this week's Associated Press poll; top-ranked Southern California; Purdue, at that time, No. 1, and Notre Dame, sixth this week.

All members of the Top Ten will be in action with the exception of No. 3 Penn State, idle this week before continuing next week against Boston College.

Fourth-ranked Kansas, the Big Eight's top poll contribution, continues its league campaign against Oklahoma State, which is coming off a 21-17 upset of Houston. Kansas is also coming off a major victory, a 23-13 triumph over Nebraska.

AND FIFTH-ranked Purdue, which bowed to Ohio State 13-0 last week is expected to have Leroy Keyes back at full strength—he gained only 19 yards rushing and 44 receiving against the Buckeyes—against a Wake Forest team that appeared to be outclassed.

'Iron Man' Douglass Assumes Sahara Lead

LAS VEGAS (Special)

— Dale Douglass, one of the "Iron Men" of the gruelling PGA tour, took command at the halfway point in the $122,222.22 Sahara Invitational Friday when he fired a three-under-par 68 over the Paradise Valley Country Club course to pull two strokes ahead of the pack.

Douglass, who was tied with Jack Nicklaus and Bill Collins for the lead after the first round following a 67, charged to the front with a three-under-par 68 for a 36-hole total of 135.

Nicklaus fell back into a three-way tie for second at 137 with Kermit Zarley (69) and Ron Cerrudo (67) when he ran into trouble on the backside and had to scramble for a one-under 70.

Collins, meanwhile, took a costly 74 and slipped to a 12-way tie for 14th at 141, six strokes off the pace.

Three of golf's biggest names in 1968—Billy Casper, Julius Boros and Lee Trevino—are among six tied at 138 and still in a favorable position to make strong moves on the final two days.

Casper, who took a costly penalty when he went into the water on No. 14 Thursday, came back with a 67 Friday to move back into the thick of the fight.

Where most of the professionals have been limiting themselves to 20 to 25 tournaments a year, Douglass has played in virtually every PGA tournament in the last five years—some 200 of them. However, he has never won a tournament. In fact, he has never finished higher than a tie for fourth.

But the lean and lanky pro from Denver still is one of the more highly-regarded golfers on the tour.

Dale's most spectacular birdies came on 15-foot putts at no. 2 and no. 11, and at no. 17 where he missed an eagle by an eyelash when his brilliant pitch stopped just two inches from the cup.

There were an unusually large number of "name stars among the casualties —Bruce Devlin and Chuck Courtney at 146; Dudley Wysong and Gardner Dickson (75) at 147; Don Massengale, 148; Doug Sanders and Dave Stockton with 149's, and Bert Yancey at 153.

SWIFTEST TWO-YEAR-OLD QUARTER HORSE RACING Kaweah Bar Tops Alamitos Card

Kaweah Bar, swiftest two-year-old quarter horse racing, headlines this evening's card at Los Alamitos, facing five rivals in the $10,000 Los Ninos at 350 yards.

The palomino gelded son of Alamitos Bar will be seeking his sixth victory of the Los Alamitos night meeting. So far, he has won nine of 11 starts in 1968, earning $46,046. His most impressive win came in the $30,240 Pima Quarter Horse Futurity Sept. 23 when he was clocked in 17.5 seconds to become the fastest juvenile in quarter horse racing history.

Since that race, he was clocked in 17.9 in capturing the $8,000 Bardella, equalling the fastest 350-yard clocking of the meeting. It was the third time that he has gone that fast at Los Alamitos this year. Kaweah Bar will be attempting to duplicate his sire's feat in the Kindergarten. During the 1961 spring meeting, Alamitos Bar, carrying 125 pounds upset the famed Pokey Bar to win the race in 17.8. Kaweah Bar will be high weight tonight with 123 pounds.

Slated to go against him in the race restricted to two-year-old colts and geldings are Witch Chic, Double Express, Nercino, Unattached and Blue Bruce.

Top Rockette came up with one of her better races and registered a surprising victory in the $6000 Vandy's Flash Friday night before a crowd of 7,265. Her win was no fluke as she was one and a half lengths in front of the field in the 350-yard race. And only one horse in the history of Los Alamitos has ever gone faster than Top Rockette, clocked in 17.6 seconds.

That was Vandy's Flash, for whom the race was named for Friday evening. As a six-year-old in 1960, Vandy's Flash raced 350 yards in 17.5 seconds, that being a world record at the time.

Because of her previous inability to race well at Los Alamitos, Top Rockette was allowed to get away with across-the-board payoffs of $21.20, $8.60 and $4.40. Mr. Rocket Bar, nosing out Dividend's Bar for second, paid $4.40 and $3, while the show price on the latter horse was $2.80.

Sir Faffee Scores at Hollypark

Dick Rhoads, who owns trains and drives Sir Faffee, thought his ace trotter just wasn't himself in his first two races at Hollywood Park this season but Sir Faffee undoubtedly changed Rhoads' mind Friday afternoon.

Trotting with the same precision that found him winning in 1:58 3-5 last fall, Sir Faffee hit the wire in 1:59 flat to account for the $10,000 Eisenhower Purse. A half-length back in second was Darn Faber, with Lumber Son third.

Favored at 2-1 by the crowd of 7,760, Sir Faffee returned $6.20, $4.20 and $3.20 across the board while recording the fastest mile of the meeting.

Trotters will be in the spotlight at Hollywood Park again today with both the $25,000 Golden Poppy and the $15,000 Elks Purse scheduled for the diagonally-gaited horses. Eric B., one of the country's leading three-year-olds, heads the Golden Poppy field, while the Elks will rematch Earl Laird, Speedy Play and Fresh Yankee, who were one-two-three in a similar clash last weekend.

Sir Faffee consistently has faced the very best trotters in the nation since his '67 Hollypark campaign, in which he was third in the rich American Trotting Classic in addition to his speedy miles. He was sixth and eighth in that same league in his last two outings.

Bobby Williams stretched his lead in the driver standings to two lengths over Bob Farrington, as he scored with Fast Craig in the sixth. Meanwhile, Farrington was blanking for the second straight day.

Rams Stun Downey in Water Polo

Millikan scored the biggest upset in Moore League water polo history Friday, breaking Downey's 52-game winning streak dating from 1958.

The 5-4 victory was termed by Millikan coach Richard Miller as "a great win for us. The boys were very relaxed and they followed our game plan well. We thought if we could hold them close for two periods we could win it."

Millikan goalie Bob Vogen had 21 saves and Phil Omdahl netted three goals to lead the Rams. It was the first league loss ever suffered by Downey.

In other games, Bret Graham scored four goals in leading Wilson (3-0) to a 1-4-4 rout of Warren and Lakewood (3-0) defeated Jordan, 8-3.

KINGS RENEW PLAY WITH NORTH STARS

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (Special) -- The Kings stake their early West Division lead against last season's chief tormentors in a National Hockey League game tonight.

The North Stars, backstopped by big Cesare Maniago, kept the Kings bottled up in a one-way street, 6-2-2, over the '67-68 campaign, then rode them out of the Forum on a rail in the deciding game of their Stanley Cup quarterfinal, 9-4.

King coach Red Kelly brought everybody except defenseman Brent Hughes, whose fractured cheekbone should be mended by next Wednesday's homecoming against Montreal.

A surprise squad member is Jimmy Peters, who may never see the Springfield farm, his original destination after the Terry Sawchuk trade with Detroit.

Peters has teamed up with Real Lemieux in a tough penalty killing tandem that has held opponents scoreless through 24 consecutive minutes of shorthanded situations, including 12½ in Thursday's 2-1 win over Boston.

Tonight's game will be telecast by KTLA(5) at 6 p.m. The Kings go to New York Sunday.

El Paso Coach Files $2.5 Million Libel Suit

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) -- An assistant coach at the University of Texas at El Paso filed a $2.5 million libel suit against Newsweek Magazine Thursday.

Wayne Vandenberg alleged the magazine libeled him in an article entitled "The Angry Black Athlete," printed in the July 15 issue.

According to the suit, filed in U.S. District Court, the article quoted a Negro member of the UTEP track team as saying Vandenberg threatened to kick him off the team if he refused to take part in a New York Athletic Club meet in Madison Square Garden.

Harry Edwards, a California professor who was at the time attempting to organize Negro athletes to refuse to participate in the Olympics, boycotted the New York meet.

Bert Williams, a lawyer for Vandenberg, said the coach was asking $1.5 million actual damages and $1 million punitive damages.

CARUTHERS READY FOR LEAP OF A LIFETIME AT OLYMPICS

By JOHN DIXON
Staff Writer

MEXICO CITY—There are more than 200 events in this XIX Olympiad, and none has more possible gold medal winners than the high jump.

What will it take to win? "Seven feet, three inches will do it," insists Ed Caruthers, who has spent half of a lifetime trying to navigate above the splintery little board.

"I feel ready—I can do it," assures Caruthers, who lives in Santa Ana, teaches at Balsa Grande High, and represents the Pacific Coast Club of Long Beach.

Four years ago, as a 19-year-old, Caruthers finished eighth at Tokyo, clearing 6-10 3/4. This year he matriculated from fifth in the National AAU championships to second in the Coliseum trials to first in the final Olympic Trials at Lake Tahoe, clearing 7-3.

Off his No. 1 world ranking last year (7-2 1/2), Caruthers may be a slim favorite—as slim as a strand of spaghetti.

For his competition includes teammates Reynaldo Brown of Compton High (7-3) and a dozen other seven-footers including the competitive Russians, Valentin Gavrilov (7-2 3/4) and Valeriy Skvortsov (7-1 3/4).

It's a big jump from also-ran to gold medalist. Caruthers is ready for the leap of a lifetime. Preliminaries are today, gold medal presentation Sunday.

'Athletes Anonymous' Carry U.S. Cage Banner in Games

By JOHN DIXON
Staff Writer

MEXICO CITY — Fourty-one United States Olympic Games coaches are in Mexico City. None is faced with the challenge of Henry Iba.

Since basketball joined the Olympic movement in 1936, the U.S. has not lost a game. But never before has the U.S. entered the Olympics with less than the best.

In 1964 there were Bill Bradley, Luke Jackson, Bud News Barnes, Walt Hazzard and Mel Counts.

In 1968 there are Mike Silliman, Chuck Scott,

Glynn Sautters, John Clawson and James King. Don't file the names under professional basketball. File them under "Athletes Anonymous."

Iba, 64, Oklahoma State, coached the 1964 team. He's the first to repeat.

If he has regrets, he's hiding them. Barely.

"Oh, we don't have the name players, but these fellows are falling into shape very well. We have a chance to win."

"There are no longer easy victories in Olympic basketball. There are a lot of tough teams — Brazil, Yugoslavia, Puerto Rico, Russia. We can't throw a net around the individual stars and come home with a gold medal."

"We're loaded with shooters," says Iba. "But we've got to have the speed to stop the fast break, and the 'up' to control the backboards. This is a game of second shots, and you can't give up the second shot if you want to win."

If there is one factor Iba isn't concerned with, it's spirit.

"The boys are trying to be the best of their ability. They are going in to win — and they honestly believe, to a man — that they can."

"We've done so well in the past that we think we can beat anybody. We've got to get this out of our system, not just in basketball, but in all sports. It's got to start with the President. We must take the Olympics more seriously. We don't take the pride we should."

Spencer Haywood of Colorado, first junior collegian on an Olympic team, is playing center. Ken Spain, 6-9, 240, Houston's "other man" behind Elvin Hayes, will not get a coffee break in this roughhouse international brand of basketball.

The scorers are Sautters, Northeast Louisiana, 23.1 average in college; Mike Barrett, Navy, 36.0; Don Dee, 25.0 at St. Mary's of the Plains, Kansas.

This is the first test of how deep the U.S. is in basketball talent. If this starless troupe can preserve supremacy in America's only native sport, it will be deeper than many suspect. Including this reporter.

The U.S. is favored. But it does not look like a winner.

Where are you, Lew Alcindor?

Gabriel Household Vibrates Still From Packer Thriller

By SUZANNE GABRIEL
(Mrs. Ram Quarterback)

For those who live in storm areas, I now realize how it must be after the fury and the calm has settled. After the Ram-Packer game, the calm still echoes the shouts, screams and confusion throughout the Gabriel house.

I'm grateful we only meet Green Bay once this year, for once is all my nerves can take. With the exception of last year's conference title game, the two teams could sit out the first three quarters and play only the last two minutes. So often the games are won or lost in the short span of time.

Our defense rose to the occasion again and what a memorable goal line stand. I was surprised to see anyone at the bottom of that pile. I saw Zeke Bratkowski's hands go up signaling a touchdown, but there was no way that Packer could have scored unless he had gone under the goal line hash mark.

The offensive line had another consistent day that wins ball games and Jim Wilson did a fine job filling in for ailing Charlie Cowan. Charlie is a hard man to cover for. Mike Dennis also came in from the bench for a key pass play.

Roman's pass to Billy Truax was the heart stopper. I thought the pass would be called incomplete. I could just see that referee waving his hands for a dead ball, but when he marked it down our roof quivered from the boorahs. Roman needed the completion, Billy needed the catch and the Rams desperately needed that first down.

The next play will be discussed for quite a while. Roman passed to Jack Snow. Avid Ram fans will swear Jack would have gone all the way had he not been interfered with. So-so fans will say that one play decided the outcome of the game and Packer fans will say "we wuz robbed."

In the game films you could not tell, so as it should be — the officials' judgment should not be questioned. His is the only decision that counts, anyhow.

To prove breaks can go both ways, Roman's touchdown pass to Bernice Casey was ruled out of bounds and incomplete. The game film clearly shows Bernie is inside. No further comment.

And for those who argue the kicking game is boring, an "Eh" to you. The field goal still wins games and so do extra points.

Bruce Gossett said he must have walked two miles on the sideline before he went in for the deciding field goal. Bruce admitted as he lined up the kick that he was scared, but then so were 39 other players, seven coaches and all of the TV fans.

Maybe the next win will be a little easier on the nerves.

Wynn, Silvera Sign MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP)—The Minnesota Twins hired Early Wynn and Charlie Silvera as coaches for the 1969 season, team president Calvin Griffith announced Friday.

OVER 300 BOATS POISED

Fall Series of Yacht Races Opens Today in Harbor

Most places in the country, Saturdays during the football season are for sitting in a stadium watching other people exercise strenuously. Or sitting in front of television sets watching other people exercise.

Long Beach is a "doing" city, not a place for mere watchers, though, as will be demonstrated today and Sunday when the Long Beach Harbor Regatta opens three weekends of activity in the Fall Invitational Series of the California International Sea Festival.

The Festival is Long Beach's annual celebration of its status as "Water Sports Capital of the World."

Two weeks of events each August provide ample opportunity for participation and also for competition.

The fall portion of the Sea Festival each year emphasizes participation, and as proof there'll be over 300 boats in water this weekend, competing in three separate regattas.

Long Beach Yacht Club hosts an event for ocean classes of yachts on a course outside Long Beach Breakwater. First race today is noon, with another to follow, and Sunday's concluding race begins at 12:30 p.m. At stake is the California Assembly Cup.

Alamitos Bay Y.C. will stage its event inside Long Beach Harbor, a test for Olympic-type international one-design classes — one and two-man boats. Starting time today is noon, 12:30 p.m. Sunday. Winner of the class with the largest number of entries earns the California Senate Cup.

Leeway Sailing Club, Long Beach's world-envied program for youngsters 7 to 18, sponsors its own regatta, meanwhile, a Sabot series in Alamitos Bay. There'll be A and B classes for the sporty little eight-foot dinghies, and the winner will receive the Mayor's Trophy. Starting times today are 11:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Sunday's deciding race starts at 1 p.m.

The Outboard Boating Club of Long Beach holds its annual "Poker Run" family outing, starting and finishing at the Second Street Landing on Apian Way, midway between Marine Stadium and Long Beach Marina.

At least 100 boats of wide-ranging size will be taking part in the unique cruise. Skippers will receive maps of Long Beach and San Pedro Harbors. At each of four designated spots, they'll pull ashore to receive a sealed envelope containing a playing card. A fifth envelope will be waiting at the finish line, and when all entrants complete the course — between 1 and 2 p.m. — the envelopes will be opened.

EVANGELIST-EDUCATOR

Dr. Gene French, president of World of Youth, Inc., a nationally syndicated TV ministry on which he speaks, and also president of the San Diego Board of Education, will be featured speaker Friday, 7 p.m., at the annual fall banquet of the Norwalk-Bellflower-Artesia Chapter of Child Evangelism Fellowship, in Alondra Baptist Church, 9438 Alondra Blvd., Bellflower.

CONFIDENT LIVING

Start Believing in the 'Possibles'

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

It is a powerful law that if you change mental habits so that you can believe, at once you start bringing everything into the realm of possibility. This does not mean that merely by believing you will get everything you want. Of course not. But it does definitely mean that once you learn to believe, then the seemingly impossible moves into the area of the possible. Things really start going for you.

Dr. Smiley Blanton, distinguished psychiatrist, explained that in helping people the primary effort is to develop in them the "capacity to believe." Everything hinges on one's learning to have faith, so he said. Some people do not seem able to be believers — either in God, or in themselves, or in their activities. As a result they never get very far, just go limping along through life. But others have the priceless quality of believing. They are able to have faith in God, in themselves and in their jobs. And so they become the real achievers of this world.

Sir Winston Churchill, one of the great characters of history, demonstrated this indomitable faith. During the war he decided that what he called "floating harbors" were desperately needed. He summoned the best engineers in England and outlined how he wanted them to make these floating harbors. They said it could not be done. He replied that, even so, he wanted floating harbors constructed. The engineers became angry, quarreled with him and told him again it could not be done, that what he asked was impossible. Churchill barked back at them, "Don't quarrel with me; quarrel with your difficulties. Make me those floating harbors. I know you can make them. I must have them. Get busy." And they did make them, and those floating harbors played an important role in the ultimate victory.

IMPOSSIBLE! Cannot be done! How many times have you said that? If you drop the impossibles and think in terms of the possibles — if you learn to believe — all things will for a fact move into the area of possibility. Everything then shall become different, creatively better.

How then do we learn to believe? Practice believing is the secret; practicing believing until you make yourself a believer. Nobody ever learned to master anything except by intensive and persistent practice. So if you want to be a believer the kind of person who does so-called impossible things, start now to practice being a believer. Simply say to yourself, and say it very positively: "I be-

VETERAN L.B. PASTOR SAYS

Youth Revolting Against 'Freedom Without Purpose'

Young people, as well as many adults, are in revolt against "freedom without purpose," contends a veteran Long Beach minister, who warns "This is how boundless liberty leads to tyranny."

Rev. Milton G. Gabrielson, pastor for 33 years of Bay Shore Community Church (United Church of Christ), traveled more than 12,000 miles through the United States last fall, studying the temper of the American people, American institutions and movements in connection with a planned book.

Since his return, he reports, concerned citizens have asked him the following questions:

"Is there a Communist conspiracy involved in the campus uprisings?"

"Is it just idealism on the part of youth or is there something more sinister behind it all?"

"Why are so many students and professors attracted to leftist ways of being, thinking and acting?"

"Why are so many giving in to these influences?"

"What are they afraid of?"

In a sermon at the Bay Shore Church, 5100 The Toledo, Rev. Gabrielson addressed himself to these questions under the topic "Why Leftism Seems to Hold Such Attraction."

He contended "that the present revolutionary tendency in youth is not due to the fact that youth is inherently perverse. In reaction against an irrational, unpurposeful existence youth is seeking compensation in the intensity of an experience such as sex license, revolution, revolt, sit-ins, sit-downs, strikes, draft card burnings, or to sum it all up — anarchy."

"Basically," he continued, "young people as well as many adults are tired of their freedoms and because of purposeless living or inadequate objectives, they are now using their freedom to revolt against freedom without purpose. This is how boundless liberty leads to tyranny."

The minister said that "men today who commit wrong have uneasy consciences, a sense of guilt. Such a conscience and uneasiness stemming from bad behavior such as dishonesty, pride, egotism, self-interest, lust and alcoholism can result from too much money as well as too much freedom."

"A man whose conscience bothers him because he is not living a right and purposeful life usually reaches a point where he will say 'I want to escape this remorse and gnawing guilt. Modern man seems to be saying that defenders of morality, decency and religion only deepen his guilt feelings."

"Iating this," Rev. Gabrielson amplified, "he turns to alignment with the leftists and to the pursuit of social justice to solace his conscience. By so doing, modern man satisfies his ego by attempting to straighten out other peoples' problems under the guise of social justice. He feels communism offers him more opportunities along these lines. And what is more, it satisfies his lust for power by telling others what to do and where to go — again under the guise of social justice to make the whole thing more palatable."

Pope's Plea

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI asked older married couples to help convince younger Roman Catholics that the principles of his birth control encyclical are the only way to true marital happiness. He made the appeal in a speech to a group of Italian couples celebrating their 25th wedding anniversaries.

GOINGS ON

Monday is the day for the big third annual Interreligious Institute, Long Beach's major ecumenical event. It starts at 4 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center, 2601 Grand Ave., with Apollo project executive Ed Lindaman speaking on the theme "Can the Church and Synagogue be Relevant in Today's Society," followed by questions and answers. At 7 p.m. Dr. Sterling W. Brown, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will speak, followed by a reactor panel and open forum. The Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths cooperate with Cal State Long Beach and the Chamber of Commerce in this program. . . . And Friday is the start of the two-day Theonetics symposium on the family at Edgewater Inn, featuring a battery of outstanding speakers, starting at 1:30 p.m., with registration at 11 a.m. Added to the program are dramatic sequences by students of Occidental College drama department.

Don Erickson, the blind teacher of sixth graders in a Costa Mesa school, who was written up in this paper, will speak today at 4 p.m. at First Seventh-Day Adventist, 1001 E. Third St. . . . # THE ALASKA STORY Frontier Mission Pep Fights 'Bad Old Days'

By LES RODNEY

If any of you good people in "the lower 48" are curious about religious life — and other aspects of life — in Alaska, our last frontier state, you probably could do a lot worse than wend your way over to Third and Junipero Sunday evening.

There, in Grace Methodist Church you will see color films and hear a first hand report by Rev. Dwight Bennett, along with his wife Maybelle. If the films are anything like those (plus tapes, anecdotes and artifacts) brought back from other parts of the world by this energetic couple, they will be excellent in quality and interestingly educational.

The Bennetts, who spent a part of this summer up there, have been doing this work ever since he "retired" from the active ministry (he was pastor for six years at Grace.) At their own expense, Rev. and Mrs. Bennett decided to find out "what is done with the money spent on mission work around the world." With their growing library of factual coverage, they have helped strengthen support for Christian work overseas.

HERE ARE a few of the general impressions the Bennetts brought back with them from Alaska:

There is a healthy, youthful missionary zeal evident in the religious life. "Nearly all the work at mission churches is ministered by the young," says Rev. Bennett, "who feel they are on the frontier for a purpose, and are thrilled with the challenge. The spirit of Alaska Christians is heartwarming."

In fact, one of the notable things about Alaskan life, he says, is the sense of an influx of a younger generation from down here, bringing a new vitality and great potential into the state's life. "They aspire to teaching, preaching, and good, clean government," he reports.

There is, as always, another side of the ledger. The Bennetts are not Pollyannas. They are realistic because they are concerned for the success of the missions, which face real problems.

"There is a real struggle in Alaska against the desire of amusement people to revive and enlarge on the wide open Klondike traditions—some would like to revive all the gambling, prostitution, etc.," Rev. Bennett says.

DRINKING is a problem, as in any frontier type situation, and: "It seems like half of the divorced men in the U.S. go up there, to get away from their past. You feel these extremes."

There are other real problems.

"The church in Alaska MUST pioneer in some respects because the problems are more extreme," he comments. "Financial, moral, and of course, the weather. It costs about half as much again to live, and twice as much to build."

This hampers the church building program, which is lagging behind need. "Capital investments are sorely needed by the mission boards."

For one little example, when a church is built above the "permafrost" zone, four feet of the ground has to be taken off and piles must be sunk, to keep it from buckling the foundation later when the temperature varies.

Other observations: The churches being built "are beautiful," to go with a beautiful setting, says Mrs. Bennett. .... The Russians made some headway for the Orthodox Church during their occupation and some of the Eskimos and Indians are still of that persuasion. .... Eskimos, reports Rev.

Navy, Civilians Pray Together on Hollister

Sailors and civilians worshipped together on the helo deck of Long Beach's destroyer USS Hollister last Sunday at the Naval Station. Approximately 35 members of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church of San Pedro and their pastor Rev. H. Lester Peterson attended the Navy services officiated by the ship's chaplain, Lt. W. H. Diskerd. Guests included several retired military personnel as well as active servicemen and their families.

The services were part of the "Chapel By the Sea" program initiated by Rear Adm. Thomas J.

Rudden Jr., Commander Cruiser-Destroyer Group, Long Beach. The program encourages members of civilian parishes to attend services on board ships and forms voluntary church parties of servicemen to attend services in civilian parishes.

Since its beginning in May, church groups from the Long Beach area have been worshipping aboard Navy ships every Sunday.

"By participating in divine services with the men of the United States Navy, we hope (our civilian guests) will experience a sense of togetherness and solidarity in worshipping Almighty God," Adm. Rudden said.

After the services, church members were served refreshments on Hollister's fantail and were given a tour of the ship by Commander W. A. Knopp, commanding officer.

Hollister recently returned to Long Beach from a two-year deployment in the Pacific where she was home-ported in Yokosuka, Japan.

NOTED WORLD LECTURER HERE

Dr. Marcus Bach, whose career as world traveler, author and lecturer is detailed in "Who's Who in America" will speak on "The Wonderful Magic of Living" Friday, 7:30 p.m., in Church of Religious Science, 505 E. 36th St. Of him, the New York Times said: "Respect and sincerity are the secrets of Dr. Bach's success. With the indefatigable energy of an explorer and the zest and eagerness of a skilled reporter, he has discovered the springs and stimuli that rouse men and women to follow faith."

Now Hear THIS Menu!

Long Beach churches have a long way to go with their church dinner menus! Here's one brought back from Alaska by Rev. and Mrs. Dwight Bennett, exactly as printed in the program of Seward Memorial Methodist Church of Seward.

TOSSED GREEN SALAD from vegetables grown in the Vic Mahan and Dick Myers gardens. MONTAGUE ISLAND DEER, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hatch. BLACK BEAR, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Duane LeVan. KING SALMON, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Irv. Tressler. CARIBOU, donated by the Hatches and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Myers. MOOSE ROAST, donated by the Tresslers. BOUNTIFUL SEA SCALLOPS, donated by Alaskan Scallop Co. ESCALLOPED POTATOES, made with Alaskan grown potatoes. CRANBERRY RELISH, made with wild cranberries by Mrs. Bernice Ostergaard. HOME-MADE HONEY, donated by Mrs. Arthur Brooks. HOMEMADE ROLLS. STRAWBERRY SHORT CAKE, made from berries from the gardens of Mrs. Tom Howell and Mrs. James Cameron.

Back Film Ratings; Baptist Credo; Catholics & Press

Church leaders have thrown their support to the rating system proposed by the movie industry to keep youngsters from seeing unsuitable films.

The National Council of Churches' Broadcasting and Film Commission and the National Catholic Office for Motion Pictures endorsed the plan with the proviso that there must be "conscientious implementation" right down to the local movie house.

In other words, that it not be just a high-sounding piece of publicity where in real life anyone of any age can still plunk down the price and get into any movie.

Parents and civic organizations are urged by the church groups to help see that the plan is adopted and enforced in their areas.

Feeling is that the classifications will help some. Even if a dubious picture doesn't get the bottom rating (no youngsters allowed), the rating which says they can only be admitted if accompanied by a parent will give the parent useful guidance as to when or when not to take the kids.

You would hope. When we saw "The Graduate" last week, a woman several rows in front of us got up after about 10 minutes and angrily stalked out with her approximately 12-year-old girl. Didn't she know by now that "The Graduate" was not about Mary Poppins going to college? Just "taking the kid to the movies" these days (or any days) without bothering to find out what you're going to see does not exactly give a mother high marks for concerned and intelligent parenthood.

"Outstanding Achievement in Human Relations" was awarded last week by the Long Beach Commission on Economic Opportunities and the city of Long Beach to Rev. C. LeRoy Doty Jr. "in recognition and grateful appreciation of his dedicated help to Long Beach anti-poverty programs, given in the finest expression of Christian service."

Rev. Doty, who is pastor of First Church of the Brethren, was recently elected to his second term as voluntary chairman of the economic opportunity group.

THE AMERICAN Baptists of Southern California, meeting this weekend in Bakersfield, will, like all denominations in 1968, be confronted with controversy and differences of opinion. Notably, perhaps, the strong reaction of many at the black clergymen at the national Boston meeting, regardless of any merits in their case, should not have made "demands" of fellow Christians and Baptists.

The preamble to the written material presented to delegates at Bakersfield began: "Remembering our venerable Baptist heritage of the freedom of conscience, we urge our churches to give prayerful and careful consideration to the differing viewpoints of all their members as to personal and corporate life."

RELATIONS between the Catholic Church and the press — which, it is revealing no secret to say, have not always been those of swinging harmony — came in from some comment in a recent speech by Auxiliary Bishop James P. Shannon of St. Paul, Minn., in which he said "we must open channels of communication to the world."

Information directors in the dioceses, he said, "have a great opportunity to reverse the growing trend toward secrecy in the church."

"There are certain instances in which we need secrecy," he said.

But, he added, "it seems to me we have made this secrecy into a way of life in the Catholic Church. It has almost become a kind of mark of the Catholic Church . . ."

"It is imperative that official representatives of the Church, bishops, chanceries, pastors, priests, re-examine their ancient grudges against the general press. It is not the opposition. If it once was, it isn't any more. We are missing an opportunity to do the work of the Church by failing to recognize the general press as our friends and by failing to cooperate with them in every way we can. We have general good will in the press."

Rev. Mitchell is also survived by sons Charles, Terry and Bobby.

Oleta Mitchell Services Held

Services have been held at Motiell's Mortuary for Rev. Vera Oleta Mitchell, well known in the Long Beach area and throughout the Southland for her evangelistic work and unselfish aid to REV. MITCHELL youth organizations and the needy.

She was an active supporter of Teen Challenge Inc., International Champion Gospel Crusades, Youth for Christ, Calvary Temple, Christians in Action, Full Gospel Business Men's Association, Cathedral of Compassion, Leroy Jenkins Evangelistic Assn., Revival Tabernacle Assn. and many others.

Her daughter, Mrs. Vera E. Bain of Long Beach, says "My mother was a talented and beautiful young woman could have used her abilities in various fields for her personal gain, but instead gave her life to helping others. She will be remembered by many whose lives she touched in Southern California."

Rev. Mitchell is also survived by sons Charles, Terry and Bobby.

FROM THE PULPIT

Are we embarrassed to speak up for what we believe, lest we be labeled with a label by the scorners that we do not desire?

We need to speak up for America. This is our land. God gave it to us and has been pleased to bless our great nation.

We need to speak up for law and order. It is not wrong to speak up for that which is following God's pattern. We need men on our Supreme Court who believe in law and order. We need men in our pulpits and our homes who believe in law and order.

We need to speak up for Christ. "He that is ashamed of me . . . of him will I be ashamed when the Son of Man comes in His Glory."

Stand up and be counted!

Stand up for your country, for law and order, for the rights of the majority, and the minority, and for Christ and His Church.

"As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

Let me invite you to Calvary.

We are not ashamed of Him.

Former AEC Head Strauss Backs Hosmer Re-Election

By BOB HOUSER
Political Editor

Lewis L. Strauss, former chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, has endorsed the re-election campaign of Congressman Craig Hosmer, R-Long Beach (32nd District).

Noting that Hosmer will become chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy if Republicans win control of the Congress, Strauss wrote Hosmer:

"From my somewhat specialized point of view, you are the most important man in the House because of your seniority on the Joint Committee, the extraordinary knowledge that you have accumulated on the technical aspects of the subject, the courage with which you express your convictions and their accuracy."

Hosmer called Strauss "a humanitarian of world-wide fame" who was a top aide to Herbert Hoover in feeding war-torn Europe after World War I.

GOTTLIEB BACKED

CRANSTON COFFEE

Alan Desser, of the campaign staff of Democratic U.S. Senate nominee Alan Cranston, will speak at a coffee hour, 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. MacGregor, 1745 E. Third St. The meeting is sponsored by the Women's Committee, Californians for Cranston.

Final Rites Held for Lay Leader

Final rites were held this week for Howard H. McConnell, a founder and deacon of the First Missionary Baptist Church of Bellflower, and first chairman of the trustees of California Missionary Baptist Institute and Seminary.

Mr. McConnell, who was born in Garvin County, Indian Territory, was 72. He resided at 6157 Anos Ave. with his wife, Bessie, who survives.

12-YEAR-OLD BOY ARRESTED FOR TORCHING 7 RESIDENCES

Downey Police Chief Ivan Robinson said Friday his officers have arrested a 12-year-old boy who has admitted setting fire to five apartment houses and two homes since March 30.

Robinson said none of the first caused extensive damage — the total for all of them was estimated at $25,000.

The boy, Robinson said, has been booked on seven counts of arson and six counts of illegally entering residences with the intent to commit a felony.

The boy was the subject of a story in a local newspaper, Robinson said, for reporting a fire which, subsequent investigation revealed, he had started.

The boy would enter an apartment through an unlocked door or window, ignite bedding and clothing, then toss a burning book of matches on a sofa before leaving, Robinson said.

Clean-Up Kidd Rites Monday

Drive Starts in Carson

A year-around municipal clean-up campaign is being launched in Carson this morning through the efforts of City Beautification Chairman Mary Custer and the Carson Women's Club.

One area of the city will be designated for the clean-up campaign each month.

VOLUNTEERS from Girl Scout troops have passed out leaflets explaining the project to 125 homes in the neighborhood adjacent to Victoria Park.

Carson Refuse Co., which has been selected by the city for an exclusive residential rubbish collection contract, is donating one truck and its crew for the project.

The truck will start at the intersection of Victoria and Wall streets and pick up any type of trash discarded as the result of clean up of homes and yards.

Andrew D. Kidd, who was a foreman for Richfield Oil Co. in Wilmington 37 years, died Friday in a local hospital. He was 70.

A native of Scotland, he came to Long Beach 41 years ago, and retired in 1963. He was a member of the Arthur L. Peterson Post of The American Legion and a Mason.

Surviving are his widow, Jean, of the home address, 1225 Hungerford St.; a daughter, Mrs. Betty Jean Fryfield of Long Beach; brothers, James and John of Oregon, and a grandson.

Services will be Monday at 12:30 p.m. in Mottell's Mortuary.

Choir Director at Atlantic Ave.

Frank Allen, choral music teacher at Stanford Junior High School, and former music director of Los Altos Methodist Church, is the new choir director for Atlantic Avenue Methodist Church.

Allen, who recently toured with the Roger Wagner Choral, last year formed and directed the Vocal Arts Ensemble.

D. J. Dreher Named to Post at McDonnell

Dr. John Dreher, Arcadia psycho-linguistics expert, Friday was named associate director of life sciences at the McDonnell Douglas Corp. Advanced Research Laboratories in Huntington Beach.

Dr. Lewis Lamore, vice president of the laboratories, said Dr. Dreher will direct all research efforts in the life sciences at the Huntington Beach facility.

The private inquiries undertaken by Dr. Dreher include mathematical analyses of both spoken and written language and studies on identifying authors of written texts.

Last of Spater Mill-in Group Sentenced

By MOLLY BURRELL
Staff Writer

The last two of 43 students and adults arrested May 29 during a massive mill-in at California State College at Long Beach were sentenced Friday.

Richard V. Anthony, 22, and Carol Sue Rodick, 20, convicted of failure to disperse and disturbing the peace, respectively, were fined $125 each and placed on one-year summary probation.

Municipal Court Judge John Spence, one of several judges who handled the cases of 14 women and 29 men involved in the campus protest over a ban on an exhibit of erotic sculpture, also granted a new trial to David Carman, 20, a nonstudent charged with failure to disperse.

Carman was convicted by the same jury which found Anthony and Miss Rodick guilty, but Judge Spence ruled evidence used to convict him was insufficient.

Four of the 43 arrested had all counts against them dismissed. They were Daniel Dorsy, Martin Greisinger, Carolyn McIntyre and John F. Gish. Two others, Byron T. Brooks and William Ruch Jr., were acquitted of failure to disperse after disturbing-the-peace charges were dropped.

Miss Rodick and Anthony were found not guilty of failure to disperse and disturbing the peace, but guilty on other charges.

Jurors found Robert Harrington, Harold Channer — an instructor of geography at CSLB — and Diane Bloom guilty of disturbing the peace. Harrington was fined $190 and the others $65 each.

The 31 other students and nonstudents arrested in or near the college administration building during the mill-in pleaded nolo contendere — no contest — to charges of disturbing the peace. All were placed on one-year summary probation and fined, as follows:

Marvin Lee Applebaum, $65; Roy Bullock, $35; Kenneth Oliver East, $35; Carl Geonetta, $25; Gerald Harris, $65; Thomas Hughes, $95; Bertina Johnson, $5.

Antique Vehicles to Parade Today for Good Ol' Days

By BILL HOMER
Staff Writer

The 12th annual Good Ol' Days Parade gets under way at noon today with a nostalgic mixture of old and new saluting the fifth anniversary of the Long Beach Public Transportation Co.

Starting at Ocean and Long Beach boulevards, the transportation pageant, which heralds the final 1968 Good Ol' Day, will move north to Eighth Street, west to Pine Avenue, then back south to Ocean.

As the haunting melodies of "rinky-dink" piano mix with the blaring sounds of modern "rock," the procession—featuring the transport company's streamlined blue buses, double-decked London trams and an old touring car—will wind through downtown streets lined with throngs of onlookers and bargain-seekers.

MAYOR EDWIN WADE and City Manager John Mansell will ride in a liveried Victoria carriage as honorary grand marshals for the event.

Antique autos of all descriptions and a San Francisco cable car will lend an old-fashioned flavor.

The award-winning, 93-member "Kingsmen" Drum and Bugle Corps, under the direction of Don Porter, and the Downey Youth Band, led by Nat Marchiaca, will provide music and ceremony for the parade.

Twenty women joggers representing the Recreation Department—celebrating its 40th anniversary—will demonstrate running techniques.

And rounding out the line of march will be an antique touring bus carrying the Long Beach Public Transportation Co.'s board of directors.

Other Good Ol' Days events slated for today include a 9 a.m. Battle of the Bands on the Third Street and Pine Avenue bandstand, free rides on the double-decked English buses from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., a noon Municipal Band concert at Broadway and Pine Avenue, and a 1 p.m. show on the Fifth Street and Pine Avenue bandstand featuring Bobby Burgess, Cissy King and Sandi & Salli and Larry Hooper, along with the Lawrence Welk troupe.

FROM 2 TO 2:30 P.M. the "Sing Out Harbor-Up With People" youth choral will lend its 75 voices in good ol' harmonies on the same bandstand—site of the Long Beach Sweet Adeline program at 3 p.m.

The day's entertainment will also include a jazz festival, featuring the Brent Brace Jazz Band, from 4 to 5 p.m. at Broadway and Pine Avenue.

Friday's events included a Recreation Department "talent showcase," a costume contest, singing, dancing and hand concerts.

Throughout the three-day celebration which opened Thursday, clowns, police dressed in Gay 90s "Keystone" uniforms, 1969 auto and street displays were featured with special merchandise sales at downtown stores.

Search Widens for Slayer of Cal. State College Student

The search for the slayer of Richard T. Numata, 24, California State College at Long Beach student, spread throughout the west Friday when police here issued a bulletin seeking a lead to the orange get-a-way car reportedly used in the crime.

Numata, of 1144 Gardena Ave., was shot Tuesday night while he and Donald Charles Cook, 25, 219 Loma Ave., CSLB College Symposium member, discussed purchase of $75 in drugs with two unidentified men — one believed to be the killer.

Conk was cleared in the case after passing two polygraph tests.

Billy C. Jackson, 21, 7155 E. Eastondale Ave., also was cleared following his arrest Thursday when officers saw him driving a sedan resembling the hunted car.

He remained in custody on suspicion of marijuana possession, police said.

DENVER CRUSADER TELLS MEXICAN-AMERICAN PLIGHT

La Semana De La Raza, Mexican Culture Week, ended Friday at California State College at Long Beach with a speech by Rodolfo (Corky) Gonzalez, director of the Denver Crusade for Justice.

Gonzalez spoke on the plight of the Mexican-American peasant and city-dweller in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

The week of Mexican-American cultural activities, educational events and entertainment was sponsored by the United Mexican-American Students and the Associated Students.

LANGUAGE OF POLITICS

Grass-Roots Wisdom

By DICK EMERY

Less than perfect conditions prevailed for the interview.

A suggestion had been made that out of good, honest hard work, some practical grass-roots political wisdom might be shaped.

Outdoors, alongside freeway construction at the foot of Channel Street in San Pedro, the two workmen chosen for the interview were swinging nine-pound sledge hammers.

Taking turns, swinging blow after blow, they were pounding railroad ties loose from rails, where an old Harbor Belt Line track is being dug out.

Dust blew and traffic rumbled. The hammers thumped.

Ricardo C. Martinez, 18, of Wilmington, and Alexandro Saldana, 18, of Long Beach, never lost a beat of their sledge-hammer tattoo.

Grass roots? Politics? Wisdom? The two muscular workmen never batted an eye.

The hammers arced, dust jumped from the old redwood tie, the long steel rail swayed where a derrick truck held it a foot above ground.

Perhaps it would do politicians some good to get in a day of hard work, like this with the hammers?

Only the eyes glistened—the blows thumped.

At the grass roots, perhaps there is a suspicion of political things? Maybe, from working with sledge hammers, it could be thought that politicians should take aim, say?

The workmen glanced understandingly at each other, spat on their hands and swung the hammers at the next tie still spiked to the rail. The blows went "thump-thump! thump-thump!"

Just good-natured suggestions for the candidates, you know, like "Take a good aim! Swing hard—don't pull your punch!" And "Hit the nail on the head, over and over!"

For a moment, it appeared the interview had sunk home.

The two workmen rested a moment while the derrick truck took a fresh grip on the rail. But just then another workman, much older, mentioned politely neither of the two young men with the sledge hammers understands questions in English—since they spoke only Spanish.

However, the older workman continued, there is a fact of life learned from swinging a sledge hammer all day, which might be most helpful and prudent for a political candidate.

"It is all right, about taking aim and swinging hard. But, get somebody else to hold the nail!"

Airport Row, Recall Drive Hits Avalon

By WALT MURRAY
Staff Writer

The company that owns virtually all of Santa Catalina Island "now wants all the airports to itself," an Avalon city councilman — target of a recall drive — charged Friday.

"The city wanted to build an airport on a tide-lands fill just east of Avalon, then the Wrigley Santa Catalina Island Co. came along with its plan," Councilman William Krug said.

"The company and the city council have agreed on almost everything up to now," Krug said. "This time we don't."

Councilman Krug, John Walker and Vince Scari, all of whom oppose the plan for a short takeoff and landing airport planned by the Wrigley Co., are fighting a recall move by a committee called the Citizens for Honest Government, which supports the Wrigley plan.

The committee opposes the city-planned general purpose airport which would accommodate both short and long takeoff planes.

THE PROPOSED Wrigley facility — now planned for the Isthmus on the west side of the island — would be privately owned, as is the present "Airport in the Sky," on a mountain top 10 miles from Avalon.

Krug said the recall group also intends to try to remove Mayor Herbert Wegmann. The fifth man on the council, Harvey Cowell, supports the Wrigley airport plan, Krug added.

Recall petitions were filed with the Avalon city clerk Thursday by the "honest government" committee, headed by Roy Rose, owner-operator of an Avalon clothing store.

The petitions ask for the councilmen's removal on the grounds they failed to act in the best interests of the citizens, ignored the wishes of the voters and acted contrary to the best interests of the city.

Recall leader Rose said the drive to unseat the three councilmen stemmed both from the airport controversy and a heated hassle over removal of several planter-boxed palms along Avalon's picturesque bayfront.

Krug said several recall committee members either work for the Santa Catalina Island Co. or on company property, and added the recall group was "in Wrigley's pocket."

The Santa Catalina Island Co. is controlled by Philip K. Wrigley, who inherited the chewing-gum fortune of his father.

Once the recall petitions are circulated, the backers will need about 220 signatures, or one-fourth the registered voters in the city.

Need for Boating Education Told

By JACK O. BALDWIN
Marine Editor

Tighter law enforcement and better nautical education were urged for sailboaters and powerboaters Friday at a subcommittee hearing of the House Merchant Marine Fisheries Committee in Long Beach.

Consensus of a score of witnesses at the Congressional hearing was that most boating accidents and fatalities are caused from too many pleasure boaters setting sail with too little nautical knowledge.

Rear Adm. Ned W. Sprow, USCG (Ret.), director of the California Department of Harbor and Watercraft and former commander of the 11th Coast Guard District, advocated:

—Amending the 1958 Safe Boating Act to require all vessels to be equipped with lifesaving devices.

—Numbering all vessels, including sailboats and motorboats.

—Placing a maximum permissible passenger-load notice on every boat.

Sprow, commenting on the oft-proposed suggestion that pleasure boat skippers be licensed as are automobile drivers, said it may become inevitable—"but I shudder to think of the costs of inaugurating such a program."

He praised efforts of U.S. Power Squadrons and Coast Guard Auxiliaries in holding free boat-handling classes, and suggested the subcommittee "agitate" for safe-boating courses in local schools.

The committee chairman, Rep. Richard T. Hanna, D-Garden Grove, noted that "boating has the potential of becoming one of the nation's largest industries and a most popular family recreation."

"WE MUST ACT NOW to avoid having our waterways become as unsafe as our highways," he said.

Hanna noted there were no representatives of boat-insurance companies testifying and said, "I am certain the committee would be interested in hearing what the insurance carriers have done and can do to promote boating safety."

The hearing—held in the Harbor Department Building of the Port of Long Beach—was one of four. Others were held in Ohio, Virginia and Connecticut.

Purpose of the hearings is to prepare material for a bill by Congress which would create a coordinated national safety program to reduce boating accidents.

SUSPECT DESCENDS THE UP-STAIRCASE

It was a case of "down the up staircase" in the Long Beach courthouse Friday for a hit-run traffic suspect who leaped the jury box rail, bolted the courtroom and escaped down a wrong-way escalator.

Minutes before he fled the scene, Jack Roger Brooks, 21, pleaded not guilty to misdemeanor hit-run and license violations.

Municipal Court Judge Kenneth Sutherland set bail of $295.

Unable to make bail, Brooks was ordered back to the prisoner area, but when a guard turned his back, Brooks bolted.

Barreling down the up escalator Brooks chalked up a pedestrian hit-run — nearly felling two startled elderly riders.

He sprinted north on Chestnut Avenue, ripped off his bright red nylon jacket, leaped into a late model sedan, picked up two passengers and raced out of sight. He now faces new troubles, police said.

Week's Wall Street Trend

WEEKLY WALL STREET By ED MORSE AP Business Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The primary shorter term influence—Vietnam. This issue has proven so explosive that it should override any shorter term technical considerations. Progress in this area should result in another dynamic upturn in prices. However, a lack of progress would leave the market vulnerable to a general market correction. Recent gains have come at the expense of shorter term stability. Despite recent strength the relative momentum of most stocks has started to decrease. Without the Vietnam issue the market would appear due for a relatively sharp pullback.

As the weekend came, the feeling in the financial community was even more optimistic than the news dispatches seemed at times to warrant. In any event, the market rose swiftly from midweek on, buoyed by reports, some of them denied, that progress was indeed being made regarding the Vietnam problem.

The Dow Jones industrial average the past week advanced 17.79 to 967.49. This put it at the highest level since Feb. 18, 1966. At that time the market was plunging rapidly from the historic closing peak of 995.15 made on Feb. 9, 1966.

"If a Vietnam cease-fire actually comes," said Larry Wachtel, news desk manager at Rache & Co., "you could see the Dow at 1,000 in a week or so."

The opinion was universally shared in Wall Street that "peace is bullish." "Peace is strongly bullish," said Walter Maynard of Shearson, Hammill & Co.—except for the tiny group of armament issues which have already suffered severely in price. All types of issues having to do with construction of dwellings, including savings and loans, suppliers of building materials, land developers, contractors, etc., should benefit.

"Consumers' goods stocks, especially producers of consumer durables such as autos and appliances, should feel a further boost in demand. To the extent that any stabilization in interest rates occurs, peace should be favorable to utilities of all types."

The market launched its "peace rally" Thursday as volume swelled to 21.06 million shares, the third-highest in history. The rally resumed Friday after some initial hesitation.

Volume for the week was 61,596,268 shares compared with 56,089,920 the previous week when the market corrected its big September advance in slower dealings.

Of 1,698 issues traded the past week on the New York Stock Exchange, 1,005 advanced and 567 declined.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 5.1 to 358.6, another new high for the year.

Blue chips were heavily favored as many institutional investors shielded off from the high multiple glamor stocks and bought blue chips on the notion that they had "more room" for advancement, based on their lower price-earnings ratios.

STATE OFFICIAL SAYS Freeways Need a New 'Image'

By BOB SANDERS
Staff Writer

A call for individual citizens to get more involved in the California freeway program and make their wants known was issued Friday by the state's traffic engineer.

G. L. Russell delivered the main address at the luncheon meeting of a special Freeway Support Seminar, sponsored by the California Chamber of Commerce in Disneyland Hotel.

Several hundred members of the chamber's Freeway Support Committee heard Russell outline the history and growth of California's 12,500-mile freeway system, from its beginning in the late 1930s with construction of what is now the Pasadena Freeway to its present gigantic network.

After pointing out the obvious advantages of a freeway system, including greater mobility of living, improved safety record over city streets and fostering of industrial growth in freeway-access areas, Russell discussed what he termed the "so-called freeway revolt."

"THERE ARE SOME PEOPLE important and well-intentioned people — who've decided that all of society's ills are somehow related to the automobile and the highway system," Russell said.

"Pick up any metropolitan newspaper or national periodical, and chances are you'll find articles discussing the so-called freeway revolt," he continued. "Personally, I spent many hours looking for this 'revolt' and haven't found it yet.

"But the mere fact there is almost continuous reference to this 'revolt' makes it as real as if there were in fact a revolt."

Russell offered the members of the committee a three-point program to "resell" freeways by:

—Undertaking a massive public relations program to point out the advantages of freeways to citizens and to present the "other side" of the arguments on the criticisms.

—Engaging in a massive public education program designed to bring the truth about freeways and their advantages to the general public.

—Generating greater citizen involvement in the freeway program. "For the most part, their involvement today is limited to the chance of a particular freeway coming through their particular community."

"Their elected public officials authorized a public works program to satisfy these needs — the freeway system. If the public's needs or attitudes — which are really one and the same — have changed, it follows that the public works program should be changed accordingly."

Disneyland Seeking Cardsharps--Honest

Any high school or college drill team interested in playing cards — really playing cards and for money — during Christmas vacation should contact Disneyland before Tuesday.

James Milner

Named to Post

In L.A. Schools

James Milner, a counselor at Opportunity High School in Norwalk-La Mirada Unified School District, has accepted a position as consultant in the Division of Administrative Services, Attendance and Welfare, in the office of the Los Angeles county superintendent of schools.

Milner began his employment in the Norwalk-La Mirada schools in 1952. In 1961 he was appointed supervisor of child welfare and attendance at Excelsior High School, and in 1966 moved to Opportunity High School.

The team chosen will dance up and down the streets of Disneyland as part of the "Alice in Wonderland" offering.

The "Fantasy on Parade" opens Dec. 21 and closes Dec. 31.

Interested team leaders should contact Marvin Marker in the Disneyland Entertainment Division.
